H.M.S. DELHI SPEEDING TO PERNAMBURO

To Stand By for Evacuation of Foreign Citizens in Brazil, If Needed

FEDERALS AND REBELS CLAIMING VICTORIES

Mutiny of Government Garrison in Town Outside Brazilian Capital

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Oct. 11.—The British warship Delhi left here at 9 o'clock last night under orders to proceed at full speed to Pernambuco, Brazil.

It was understood the ship was to stand by at that port for the protection, and, if necessary, the evacuation of British and other foreign citizens in Brazil.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 11.—Counter-claims of victories having an important bearing on the outcome of Brazil's civil war are being made by both Federals and insurgents in anticipation of a decisive battle between their armies.

IMMEDIATE OBJECTIVE

The Federal Government reported that its troops in Minas Geraes were continuing to advance toward the capital, Bell Horizonte. Their immediate objective was the town of Lafayette, where are situated manganese mines of the United States Steel Corporation.

Government spokesmen said the administration was prepared to spend months, if necessary, in crushing the rebellion. More recruits, including those of certain navy classes, have been called up.

Leaders of the revolt have predicted the speedy downfall of President Washington Luis. President-elect Julio Prestes and their supporters.

MUTINY OF GARRISON

Mutiny of a Federal garrison in a town just outside Rio de Janeiro was announced from rebel sources and interpreted as proof that rebellion had broken out in the very heart of the Government's territory.

Dispatches reaching Buenos Aires from Rio de Janeiro reported that the Government destroyed certain army elements because others had joined the revolution and that it was calling out naval reserves.

BOY MAY FLY TO AUSTRALIA FROM ENGLAND

Canadian Aviator and Mate Bring Columbia Down on Croydon Field

TELL OF MISFORTUNE IN CROSSING OCEAN

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—Captain Eric Boyd, Toronto, and his mate, Harry Connor, today completed a flight from Montreal to Croydon, Eng., in a biplane, a flight to Australia, apparently a flight to Australia.

Boyd said he had the controls all the way across the Atlantic, and paid tribute to Connor for his accurate navigation, which took the plane down across Fastnet, Ireland.

COMPLETE VOYAGE

CROYDON, Eng., Oct. 11.—A round, rinning Canadian and a sober-faced man Yankee set their transatlantic monoplane Columbia down on Croydon Field at 3:35 o'clock this afternoon (10:35 a.m. E.S.T.), completing a voyage from Harbor Grace, Nfld., to London via the Scilly Isles in twenty-seven hours and three minutes flying time.

Captain J. Errol Boyd, formerly of the Royal Air Force, and Lieut. Harry P. Connor, of the United States Naval Reserve, flew their ship swiftly from Trecothick, Scilly Isles, where they spent last night after a gasoline line became clogged and forced them to land.

RESERVE GAS TANK

The misfortune prevented them from drawing on a reserve 100 gallon tank in the fuselage. When they finally spotted a landing place on the tiny island off the southwest tip of England, they dumped this tank as a precaution against explosion in setting down.

Captain Boyd said all went well with the Columbia after its take-off from Harbor Grace until about noon yesterday, when the fuel gauges showed they were unable to draw on a reserve tank.

TRIED THE PUMPS

"We tried the pumps," Boyd said, "but couldn't get a drop of gasoline from them. It was as if the pump with a dwindling fuel supply, for we realized that our main tanks were getting drier and drier every time we turned over." Boyd said in view of the dwindling gasoline he tried to line up with an ocean vessel "just in case."

China War Virtually At an End

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Shanghai dispatches to the Nationalist Kuo Min News Agency report that the National Government announced today the military campaign against the Northern military alliance was virtually at an end, with retirement of Peng Yu-Hsiang and Yen Hsi-Shan to Shanai Province and the three full divisions of Nanking troops have been withdrawn from the Northern battlefronts, and ordered to the Province of Hopeh, Hunan and Kiangai, Southern China, to suppress banditry and communism.

Military activities in the North have ceased.

An impressive ceremony was held in Nanking yesterday to celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the Republic of China. Numerous Government leaders expressed their joy at the unification of the country again. They praised the work of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek and the entire rank and file of the Nationalist army.

GOVERNMENT WAITING FOR WORKS PLANS

Representations to Ottawa Await Filing of Proposals for Unemployment

PREMIER INSPECTS PROVINCIAL ROAD

Representations to be made to Ottawa in connection with British Columbia's participation in the Dominion Government's $20,000,000 employment relief programme are largely dependent upon the schedules to be submitted to the Department of Public Works by the municipalities. Announcement to this effect was made last night by Premier Tomin.

The Premier was questioned on his return from an inspection trip over the P.G.E. to the report from Ottawa that British Columbia was the only province that had not filed its requirements with Hon. Oliver Roberson, Federal Minister of Labor.

BASED ON NEEDS

"We have asked the municipalities to list their proposals with us," the Premier stated, "and our representations will be based upon their requirements."

Continuing, the Premier pointed out that this province should be entitled to special consideration, as it had 16, who were employed from other provinces every year. These people, attracted by Canada's best climate, made their way to the Coast. "We have more transient unemployed than has any other province," he added, "and it is on this basis that we feel that we are entitled to special consideration."

Whether the $900,000 offered by Ottawa will be sufficient for our needs I cannot say at the present moment. It will depend entirely upon the result of the tabulation of the requests made from all parts of the province."

ANNUAL INSPECTION

The Premier and other directors completed their annual tour of inspection of the P.G.E. They were accompanied on the trip by Pat Burns, the cattle king of Western Canada, who, declared the Premier was greatly impressed with the cattle-raising possibilities of the cattle-ranching to the Government's railway.

There was no truth in the rumor that had been circulated in his absence, said the Premier, that he had met on his trip by a group of Eastern capitalists who were anxious to purchase the line.

Roadbed and service conditions on the P.G.E. had greatly improved, he said, and he was very pleased with the results of the trip.

MAYOR MAY RUN AGAIN

Gave Her Name to Island Town

FAMOUS old battleship, H.M.S. Ganges. Word comes from England that one of the old wooden walls of Britain's might is being broken up, and her teak wood timbers are being made into furniture. This is the famous old ship Ganges, which was the flagship of the fleet at Esquimalt, 1857-60. Ganges, of Salt Spring Island, was named after this vessel, while Fulford Harbor was named after Captain Fulford, her commander. The above photograph was recently secured by the British Columbia Historical Society from the Western Morning News Co. Ltd., owners of the copyright. It shows the brave old ship, which was the last of the white-winged defenders of the Empire to return under sail from the ends of the earth, lying in Plymouth Harbor. The housework on the upper deck was erected when last year she was used as a refreshment place during Navy Week. H.M.S. Ganges left Esquimalt on her voyage home September 10, 1860.

P. G. E. Resources Survey Engineers Locate New Route

Former Barrier to Quesnel—Prince George Extension Can Be Overcome by Diversion and Bridge Over Cottonwood Canyon

DISCOVERY of a route whereby Cottonwood Canyon, the former impassability of which rendered costly efforts to extend the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Quesnel to Prince George abortive, may readily be spanned, was admitted here in Government circles this week, following reports from Quesnel. Engineers on the Pacific Great Eastern natural resources survey have found and roughly located a route which may be of vital importance in any further disposition of the road.

As the P.G.E. resources survey was undertaken by the Province in conjunction with the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways, officers of the Government, regarding the report of the engineers in the field as confidential, and pending the receipt of a full report by all parties to the survey, declined to discuss the Cottonwood Canyon development. At the same time Quesnel reports that such a route had been found and was intended to be correct, and satisfaction expressed at this unexpected development of the joint survey undertaken in this area.

ROUTE WAS ABANDONED

The significance of the discovery is better realized when it is recalled that the Quesnel-Prince George extension of the line was attempted over ten years ago, and rails actually laid for part of the route, only to be stopped by insurmountable difficulties at Cottonwood Canyon, where no suitable bridge approaches could be found.

The rails were abandoned, the right-of-way was left to revert to a tangle of weeds, and one of the highest hopes of the enterprise fell to the ground.

First developed as a private enterprise, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway was taken over by the Liberal Government, which, after assuming office underwrote the project.

Three Killed When Auto Is Hit by Train

YAKIMA, Oct. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Nobel Tubman and Floyd Messinger, all of South Tacoma, were killed when their automobile was struck by a passenger train crashed into their automobile at a road crossing.

Mrs. Tubman and Messinger died instantly, Tubman living until he reached the hospital. The trio had been picking apples in the Valley for the past month and a half.

GOODWILL MONEY

Representatives of the flight committee were in conference today with Rene Rackover, the flyer's business manager, to find out whether the Frenchmen would prefer to have the goodwill money presented to them at the luncheon on October 16 at which they will receive the Easternwood cheque, or whether they would prefer to receive it privately.

No statement had been made as to division of the money between Coste and Bellonte. The Easternwood cheque is made out to the flyers jointly and must be endorsed by both. The goodwill money will be turned over to Coste as leader of the expedition and what portion goes to Bellonte will be decided by him.

SOVIETS AND CHINESE DISCUSS RAILWAY PACT

MOSCOW, Oct. 11.—The first meeting of the Russo-Chinese conference to settle the international dispute over the Chinese Eastern Railway of Manchuria took place here today.

Vice-Commissar L. M. Karakhan, of the Foreign Affairs Commissariat, insisted on recognition by China of its obligations under the protocol drawn up to settle the hostilities between Russia and Manchuria last year.

TWO HUNDRED CARS TO BE CONSTRUCTED IN CITY FOR C.P.R.

Announcement Made of Plans of Railway to Construct Flat Cars for Island Line at Russell Shops—Is Part of Company's Programme to Assist in Solving Unemployment

Makes Important Contribution To Purpose of Prosperity Week

Programme Signalized Departure From Usual Place—ments for Equipment Building—Will Re-employ Mechanical and Other Staff Members Previously Laid Off for Several Months

MARKING a radical departure from its policy in the past, the Canadian Pacific Railway, on recommendations of local officials, has decided to allow certain work to the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Divisions. Two hundred flat cars for the Island road, specifications for which have been prepared by A. Sturrock, master mechanic of the Island Division, and approved by Winnipeg and Montreal offices, will be constructed in the yards on the west side of the harbor. It is understood that approximately $250,000 will be expended in the work.

Coming on the first day of National Prosperity Week, the announcement is of particular interest. The construction job will be undertaken as an aid in unemployment relief and to enable the company to re-employ mechanical and other members of the staff at the Russell shops who were laid off during the year.

FIRST OF ITS KIND

Ordinarily these flat cars would have been completed in the East, and their assembling and finishing here marks the first occasion in the history of the transportation company that work of this nature has been allotted to the Island Division.

These cars are not altogether needed at present, but owing to the abnormal conditions now prevailing throughout the country, which the railway company desires to alleviate as much as possible, it was decided to proceed with the work. These cars, designed to suit the service of shippers in this district, will be added to the rolling stock of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Division, and will release a number of standard steel flat cars for service at other points throughout the system, and for which they are more suitable than for Island requirements.

FIVE MONTHS' WORK

The trucks of these 200 flat cars will be forwarded from Calgary and Winnipeg. The brake gears will be purchased in the East, while the castings, totalling 125 tons, will be supplied by the Vancouver Steel Foundry. The hardware, pipes and all the accessories will be supplied by Victoria firms, the car sills and flooring all coming from Vancouver Island mills. The paint will be purchased from local manufacturers. To put these 200 flat cars in shape for the road, which will be in four and five months, it was stated yesterday.

In connection with the work, J. M. Cameron, master mechanic of Esquimalt and Nanaimo Division, has been in the East, and will return to the city tomorrow. Mr. Sturrock will leave tonight for Calgary and Winnipeg in order to complete arrangements for the shipment of the truck equipment to the Coast.

SECOND RACE IS HALTED BY LACK OF WIND

Canadian Defender and U.S. Entry Prevented From Finishing in Contest

BLUENOSE LOOMS AS SERIOUS CONTENDER

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 11.—A falling breeze ended the second scheduled race between the big Canadian fisherman Bluenose and the Gertrude L. Thebaud, Gloucester's hope of international fishermen's honors, when the contest was little more than half sailed.

The performance of Bluenose was such an improvement, however, over that of Thebaud, when she was defeated by Thebaud in the opening race, that tonight she loomed as a dangerous contender.

Although Bluenose has been considered a heavy weather boat and Thebaud was thought to hold all the advantages in light going, Bluenose today in a breeze that sometimes fell as low as five miles an hour, was never more than 3 minutes and 10 seconds behind the Gloucester boat. At one time she was in half distance, and at the twelve-mile mark she was only 1 minute and 44 seconds behind.

The fishermen themselves called off the race when they saw they could not finish within the six-hour time limit.

GERMANY SAID TO BE SEEKING HUGE LOAN

BASEL, Switzerland, Oct. 11.—Directors of the Bank of International Settlements met late tonight with a group of international bankers, but maintained extreme reticence about the subjects discussed. Financial circles said negotiations for a loan of $125,000,000 to Germany probably had been discussed, and asserted that wide divergences of opinion existed about it.

Volcano in Western Alaska Again Active

SEATTLE, Oct. 11.—Careful Island, Western Alaska volcano, which is 5,234 feet high and only about six miles wide, is again active, officers of the schooner Aleutian Native reported here today.

A fur trader named Nye was driven from the island by the eruption, they said. The crater is boiling "like a pot of porridge," and great quantities of pumice stone are drifting on the sea, the officers added. Earthquakes in that vicinity were recorded on seismographs here, in Victoria, St. Louis and other cities recently.

Italian Electrical Wizard Is Perfecting Radio Set To Send Secret Messages

By WILLIAM H. STONEHAM (Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Service)

ROME, Oct. 11.—Secret radio messages will soon be a reality if experiments now being carried out by Senator Guglielmo Marconi, famed Italian radio wizard, prove successful.

All but two of the more seriously injured either were in the Flaggstaff hospital on their way to this city in ambulances tonight. Two were taken to Tuba City. Of the twenty-five receiving minor injuries, fifteen required medical attention at the scene. Physicians went to the location from Flaggstaff, the nearest settlement of any size.

Drivers of the ambulances said that among those injured was Howard Higgins, director of the picture being filmed.

Higgins, it was reported, suffered a broken ankle and other hurts. The mishap occurred during the filming of one of the last scenes of a desert picture by Pathé Studios, Inc.

BE GIVEN ORDERS WHILE IN FLIGHT, warning them of enemy defenses or unfavorable weather. Such signals proved highly disastrous during the World War because they were intercepted and decoded in time to give away the manoeuvres.

MESSAGES WILL BE SECRET

Likewise private signals can be communicated to spies operating in enemy territory, and to front line trenches from headquarters, so that they will be received only by the portable sets for which they are intended and not by the enemy, unless it happens to have a set in the line of the beam.

Development of the beam system to such an extent that waves may be confined almost to a straight line will, together with wave regulation, eventually result in the long-sought secret message which cannot be detected outside the line of the beam under any circumstance, and then only with the most precise instruments tuned exactly to the wave length employed.

BUSY WEEK IS ARRANGED FOR LOCAL CLUBMEN

Bishop of Columbia Will Address Kiwanis Club on Lambeth Conference

CANADIAN CLUB TO MEET NEXT FRIDAY

CLUB CALENDAR
MONDAY—Gyro Club luncheon at Empress Hotel, 7:15 p.m. Business and Professional Women's bridge party, 8 p.m.
TUESDAY—Kiwanis Club luncheon at Empress Hotel, 12:15 p.m.; Round Table Club dinner at Empress Hotel, 6:15 p.m.
THURSDAY—Rotary Club luncheon at Empress Hotel, 12:15 p.m.
FRIDAY—Canadian Club luncheon at Empress Hotel, 12:15 p.m.

Rt. Rev. C. de V. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, will address the annual meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday. His Lordship will speak upon his recent trip to Europe, with particular reference to the Lambeth Conference, it is expected.

The Canadian Club will hold a luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel on Friday, when the speaker will be Hon. D. M. Sutherland, Minister of National Defence. Mr. Sutherland will address the members on "Canada and the Imperial Conference."

GYRO'S FOUNDER'S DAY

The Gyro Club will celebrate Founder's Day at its luncheon meeting tomorrow. The occasion is of particular importance to the local club as R. Abel, vice-president of the organization, will be the speaker and guest of honor. "Bob," as he is known among clubmen, will arrive from Tacoma tonight and will be entertained at a special luncheon reception in the clubrooms at the Empress Hotel this evening.

At Monday's meeting the attendance competition for clubmen seeking the Dawson Cup will be inaugurated.

TO ADDRESS ROTARIANS

Robert Murphy, of the Murphy Electric Company, will continue the "classification talk" series at Thursday's luncheon of the Rotary Club. His address will be "The Development of Electric Lighting." Professor W. H. Gage will be the speaker at Tuesday's dinner meeting of the Round Table Club, which will be held in one of the private dining rooms of the Empress Hotel. Although the actual subject of his address has not yet been announced, it is known that this will be connected with astronomy and will be illustrated by a number of lantern slides.

The Business and Professional Women's Club is holding a bridge party at the clubrooms at 1111 Laing Street, at 8 p.m., under the patronage of Miss E. Bradshaw.

bonds. Appropriations were secured from the Legislature to complete the line to Prince George and construction was actively carried on for a time with this intent, taking the rails into Quenel and some miles north. This work involved the clearing of the right-of-way for most of the distance between Quenel and Prince George and the laying of steel on a portion of the route.

QUESNEL TERMINUS

Construction ceased about 1920, when Quesnel was made the temporary terminus of the road, and grade work north of that point was abandoned. Prior to this the Government had ordered the fabrication of steel for a large bridge which was to have crossed Cottonwood Canyon, but which, it was later found, could never be erected by reason of a lack of suitable approaches near the scene. Steel for the bridge was left at Walkerville for a few years, and finally cut up for use in a number of smaller bridges farther south on the route.

One reason for the cessation of development of the P.G.E. at that time was the taking over of the Grand Trunk Pacific by the Canadian National Railway, which effectively canceled an agreement whereby the Grand Trunk Pacific was to have shipped all freight for Vancouver over the Pacific Great Eastern lines. The Canadian National Railways, also taking over the Canadian Northern, used the latter line for its westbound freight south of Jasper.

Impassability of Cottonwood Canyon added a final blow to plans to push the Pacific Great Eastern to Prince George, and there the matter rested for many years. Discovery of the fact that Cottonwood Canyon may be crossed comes thus as a vital development for the prospects of the Pacific Great Eastern.

LOCATE NEW ROUTE

The newly located route uncovered by the work of parties on the natural resources survey, instituted last year by Premier Tolmie and his Cabinet, in conjunction with the two transcontinental railway systems, is said to swing eastward from the old grade some nine miles north of Quenel and cross the Cottonwood about fifteen miles north of the old route.

At this point, it is believed, no engineering difficulties intervene to prevent the erection of a small bridge, with firm approaches on both banks. The route then follows a watercourse, not before known, northward, and then westerly to meet the old grade south of the point where construction was stopped short of Prince George.

While official confirmation of the actual route was withheld here this week, Government circles admitted the reported discovery of a new route which has been roughly located, and on which a full report will be presented in due course. Premier Tolmie and directors of the Pacific Great Eastern arrived back in Vancouver last evening, after a three-day tour of inspection of the Government-owned line.

has attempted to land Federal forces at Sobituba, Santa Catharina, during the night, an official revolutionary communique said today, but has been repulsed by heavy insurgent fire.

EXCHANGE FIRE

The communique said the forces landed but were forced to take to their boats and return to the Meranhoa. The destroyer exchanged fire with the rebel forces for about forty minutes and then withdrew from range.

Immediately afterward the insurgent forces occupied Imbituba, small port of which Sobituba is a part. Imbituba is located about 100 miles south of Florianopolis, sole remaining Federal stronghold along the Santa Catharina and Rio Grande do Sul coastlines.

SAN DIEGO PUBLISHER IS DEAD AT LA JOLLA

Col. Milton A. McRae, Prominent Civic Worker, Had Been in Falling Health Several Months

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 11.—Colonel Milton A. McRae, newspaper publisher, hospital and Boy Scout patron and financier, philanthropist and civic worker, died at 12:30 this morning at Scripps Memorial Hospital at La Jolla, Cal., where, on September 19, he was taken for a major abdominal operation. For several months he had been in failing health. He was seventy-two years old. Colonel McRae was conscious up to a short time before his death and died quietly while asleep.

Colonel McRae was born in Detroit, in 1858. He began an early business career as a grocer's clerk. He was successively a manufacturer of hulled corn, hotel clerk, railroad brakeman, actor and medical student, before he finally embarked upon his career as a newspaperman. He started as a reporter on The Detroit Tribune and continued in that capacity on The Free Press and later on The News to earn money to pursue his medical studies. He became a medical student, however, and chose journalism as his life's work.

TWO BANK ROBBERS GET PRISON TERMS

Ruhl Given Five to Eight Years and Robinson Five to Six Years

WENATCHEE, Oct. 11.—Four days after the holdup of the Miners & Merchants' Bank at Chelan, the two bandits today were sentenced to the state prison at Walla Walla. Henry Ruhl, twenty-one, Camanche, Ala.; was given five to eight years at hard labor, and Aubrey Robinson, seventeen, Columbia, S.C., five to six years hard labor.

Both entered pleas of guilty. The two were captured after a chase of several miles when their automobile was blocked in the narrow highway by a car in which Senator Wesley L. Jones was riding.

Ruhl, who was shot trying to escape, had the bullet removed from his body yesterday and appeared in court today.

ROBBERS FRIGHTENED BY LIFE-SIZE STATUE OF BLACK-COWLED NUN

TACOMA, Oct. 11.—A life-size statue of a black cowled nun with outstretched arms stood the St. Rita Catholic Church's good sized statue time expressed at the recent annual meeting of the National Bible Society. "When I came to Tacoma, seventeen years ago," he said, "I found that any ordinary allusion to the bible was at once caught up by the audience. In recent years this is not so, and this applies especially to the younger generation. I myself have found this in the classes at the university. One of my colleagues told me he had once referred in one of his lectures to Ananias and Sapphira, and his class looked puzzled. He asked his students what his allusion meant, and eventually one student replied that it was the title of an opera."

SCOTTISH STUDENTS KNOW BIBLE LESS

Scottish students know the Bible less than formerly was the opinion of Principal Rait, of Glasgow University, as expressed at the recent annual meeting of the National Bible Society. "When I came to Glasgow, seventeen years ago," he said, "I found that any ordinary allusion to the bible was at once caught up by the audience. In recent years this is not so, and this applies especially to the younger generation. I myself have found this in the classes at the university. One of my colleagues told me he had once referred in one of his lectures to Ananias and Sapphira, and his class looked puzzled. MAJOR REYNOLDS TITE PASSES IN VANCOUVER

One of Vancouver's Pioneer Militia Officers Succumbs Following Brief Illness

VANCOUVER, Oct. 11.—Major J. Reynolds Tite, V.D., one of Vancouver's pioneer militia officers, died last night after a comparatively short illness. He was one of the original officers of the British Columbia Brigade of the Canadian Garrison Artillery, the first military unit organized in this city, in which Colonel W. W. Foster, Lieutenant-Colonel C. W. Peck, V.C., and almost all of Vancouver's leading military personalities were trained.

Major Tite had been retired for some years. He is survived by his widow and one sister, Mrs. E. B. Morgan, of this city. He was sixty-five years old.

During his business career Major Tite was associated with the B.C. Land & Investment Company and with E. B. Morgan & Co.

During the war Major Tite, who had been adjutant and second in command of the 6th B.C.O.R., was appointed brigade major of Vancouver, under Colonel Duff-Stewart. For eight years he was honorary secretary in the British Columbia Rifle Association and trained many of the city's crack shots, including Sgt. S. J. Perry, the King's prize winner. For fifteen years also he contributed a column on "Matters Militaria" to The Sunday News-Advertiser, now incorporated with The Vancouver Sun.

CROWN CONCLUDES ITS CASE ON CHARGE OF OPIUM SELLING

Taking of evidence for the Crown in the preliminary hearing of the charge against Leong Soo, accused of selling opium, was completed yesterday forenoon, after which an adjournment was taken until Monday, when the defence will present its case.

Under cross-examination by Frank Higgins, K.C., counsel for the accused, Yick Lung, who testified to the purchase of the opium from Leong Soo, admitted that on September 19, the day of alleged offence, he visited the upstairs part of the building where Leong Soo lived and smoked two decks of opium there. Lum Yee lives there. He said he informed the mounted police that he did so.

In the afternoon he bought three decks, smoking one and bringing the other two to the police. The evening purchase of opium was from Leong Soo, who lives downstairs.

Chief Fry, who was present with the mounted police officers when Yick Lung was sent into the place to buy the drug, testified that the man who came out of the house for a few seconds and disappeared for a moment was Leong Soo.

To Mr. Higgins he said that he knew the accused for years and could not be mistaken.

He also contended that someone must have escaped from the alley leading from that place, leaving the door barred. To Mr. Higgins, Chief Fry said that he did not see anyone escape from there, but the indications pointed to someone doing so.

The hearing was adjourned at 1 o'clock until Monday.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

The Joy of Work

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

In idleness there is no joy
For bird or beast, or girl or boy.
—Old Mother Nature.

Impy, the black chipmunk, thought that when he got his bedroom dug and the passageway leading to his front door completed he would stop work. But no sooner had he got these things done than he began to think about a comfortable bed.

"I must have a soft bed right away," said Impy, and forthwith started to look for some soft material to make his bed out of. He took down through the front door and along the long passage some leaves—some dead leaves. Then he found some dead grass. He was just what he wanted. He took the dead grass inside. He had to make many trips. Yes, indeed, he had to make many trips, and there were times when his legs ached. When he had enough for a bed he was quite satisfied to curl up for a good long nap. Those little legs of his had taken him a long distance in collecting all that material.

"Now," said Impy, "I can spend my time eating and playing. I have a bed and a nice soft bed. What more could I ask? I've worked hard and now I will just have a good time."

But Impy had experienced the joy of work. For one whole day he played around and discovered that there was no pleasure in having nothing to do. Then once more he began to think of that home of his. "I ought to have a storeroom," said he. "A house without a storeroom is a poor kind of a house. My father's house had two or three storerooms. Of course, there isn't much to put in it now, but the thing to do is to have it ready when there is something to put in it. I have seen it built me a storeroom right away."

So Impy went to work again. First he opened his back door. You see, he had to push some sand out. Then he started short passage from his main hall. He made this quite short and then began digging a little room. The sand he pushed out on the pile at the back door. Finally he had a very nice little room, reached by a short passage from the main hall.

"It would be a good thing to be able to close the door of this little room," thought he. So he left some loose sand. As this was to be a storeroom and not a bathroom he didn't take any leaves or grass into it. All the time he was at work Impy felt like singing. You see, he was filled with joy—the joy of getting something done; something that was worthwhile. When this little storeroom was finished, Impy suddenly was sorry. Yes, sir, he was so. He didn't want to stop working. Where there was no work to do he was discontented. When he was working hard time seemed to fairly fly.

ARTS AND CRAFTS HOLD EXHIBITION

Another well-known Victoria organization is this year celebrating its coming-of-age. This is the 15th anniversary of the Arts and Crafts Society, which was founded in 1909 under the name of "club" in deference to the wishes of the late Miss Mary Mason, one of the charter members, who considered the lesser name more suitable to the modest form in which the society was first cast.

As usual, the society is this year holding an annual exhibition, the opening day being announced as Tuesday, October 28, at 3 o'clock. Exhibitors are expected to have their entries in by Wednesday, October 22, at the Board of Trade Rooms, Bastion Street, where the exhibition is to be held this year.

The committees are as follows: General conveners, Mrs. Anstie,

Another storeroom," said Impy to himself. "Two storerooms would be better than one. I could put one kind of food in one storeroom and another kind of food in another storeroom. I think that's a good idea."

So Impy started in to dig another storeroom. As before, he opened the back door in order to throw his sand out. But when this storeroom was half done Impy once more closed the back door and then he began filling in the passage that led to the back door. He pushed it in tight. You see, he no longer had any use for that passage; so there was no sense in pushing that sand any farther than he had to. Besides, if he filled that passage, there would be no danger of anyone digging in from the outside.

Geographical Gazetteer Of British Columbia Is Shortly to Make Its Bow

Magnificent Contribution to Standard Works on Province
Has Been Compiled

Adding an invaluable reference work on British Columbia geographical features and place names, the Department of Lands is about ready to issue a gazetteer of the province, which fills a long-felt want. The "Geographical Gazetteer of British Columbia" will be off the press of the King's Printer in a few days, and will comprise 291 pages, containing 23,000 names of British Columbia physical features, with an interesting preface giving a synoptical history of discovery and settlement since pioneer days. Not since Captain J. T. Walbran wrote his work on place names of British Columbia has any serious effort been made to list the official nomenclature of the geographical features of the province. The present work, compiled by Major G. G. Aitken, chief geographer, and his staff, under the direction of Hon. F. P. Burden, involved a vast amount of patient labor and research into earliest recorded sources of British Columbia places.

PIONEERS PERPETUATED
Following exploration and discovery both by land and water, many places in the province bear the names of officers in the Royal Navy, and pioneers who pushed their way over mountain and plain in the early days of white settlement here. Away from the early pioneer trails, Indian names, highly descriptive of the features of the country, have been handed down from mouth to mouth and finally recorded in the cartography of the country.

High adventure and romance peep out from between the covers of the Geographical Gazetteer of British Columbia, as one follows voyages made under the White Ensign into bays, river mouths and inlets up the long coast of the province. Eastward, where the giant Rockies rear their proud crests, passes which heard the "hallelu" of stout-hearted, bearded explorers of many decades ago, now bear witness by their names to the triumph of high courage over adversity.

Rivers, and British Columbia is blessed with waterways that cut like a network through its most fertile parts, recall names associated with the Hudson's Bay Company's trading posts of generations back, preserving, too, the vanished glory of Indian braves who showed the way to white men pushing ever onward into their country.

NAMED BY QUEEN
"British Columbia" itself was the name selected by Queen Victoria for this province, which, narrowly averted going down in history as "New Caledonia," the Gazetteer recalls. Cook, Meares, Vancouver, Stuart, Fraser, Thompson and many others, gave their wonderful contributions to the opening up of the new land, suffered its rigors, made peace with the Indians, and planted seeds that were to grow to sturdy and permanent settlement on the Western slope of the great new world.

The Geographical Gazetteer of British Columbia compares most favorably with the best works of its kind, and will rank as a permanent, standard work of reference, adding immeasurably to authoritative writings on the geographical features of this province.

COMPREHENSIVE WORK
There is a list of the main rivers of the province and their principal tributaries. A list of all the islands over ten square miles in extent is shown, giving the areas in square miles, and similar tables show the areas of the lakes and main drainage basins. Other lists show the area in square miles of the cities, municipalities and villages.

Three pages of the Gazetteer are devoted to charts showing mileages between different points by road, railway and coastal steamship. Brief descriptions are given of the parks of the province, both provincial and Dominion parks, showing their areas, location and means of access.

HISTORIC SITES
Another interesting feature is a list of the historical monuments and tablets erected in British Columbia by the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada, and other authorities. This shows the location of the historic monument, tablet, date of erection, and a concise description of the historic event the memorial was erected to celebrate. An interesting brief review deals with climatic conditions prevailing in the province.

Sources from which the data published in the Gazetteer have been compiled include British Admiralty charts, Canadian Hydrographic Survey charts, Dominion Department of Interior maps, Dominion Geological Survey maps, and provincial maps.

While addressing the delegates the minister, in referring to the cost of education, remarked that the Victoria High School appeared to be overvalued in comparison with the number of students and intimated that Victoria had fifty-two teachers instead of thirty-five, and, if Victoria would follow the standard set by Vancouver, a reduction of ten could be made in the staff.

The Victoria School Board has taken exception to the statements and has summoned a special meeting to be held early in the week, probably Monday or Tuesday. The board, it is understood, is not arranging the special session to revise the statements of the minister, but to review the entire situation at the high school and ascertain if there is any method of reducing the costs, and to generally discuss the school situation as it applies to the city of Victoria.

Parish Meeting To Decide Site For New St. Paul's
NANAIMO, Oct. 11.—A joint meeting of the St. Paul's Church committee and the building committee was held in the rectory, when it was decided to hold the coming parishioners' meeting in the Legion Hall next Thursday. Bishop Schofield is expected at this meeting, which will probably be a very important one, as far as the parish of St. Paul's is concerned, inasmuch as some definite plans concerning rebuilding will probably emerge.

At the last vestry meeting the parishioners instructed the committee to present for consideration as possible sites on which to build their church. Among the sites which will be taken into consideration will be one on Wallace, one on the corner of Milton and Pittsfield Streets, and another on Macleary Street. It is confidently anticipated that some definite decision will be made at this meeting.

Lieut. Governor to Open New Home for Nanaimo Boy Scouts
NANAIMO, Oct. 11.—After years of hard work and the co-operation of organizations and citizens of Nanaimo, the Boy Scouts of Nanaimo and district have a wonderful home, in the form of a large log hut, in Comox Road Park. This hut would have been possible if not for the generosity of the Nanaimo Lumber Co., who donated the logs and lumber necessary. Colonel Villiers, the Elks, Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, I.O.E., the Marshall-Wellis Co. of Vancouver, woman's auxiliary, along with other generous citizens who put in a hand to help along a good cause.

Knowing the importance of this work, Hon. Randolph Bruce, Lieutenant Governor, has very kindly consented to come to Nanaimo on Monday, October 20, to officially open the hut.

The rules of nomenclature adopted were those of the Geographic Board of Canada, which rules are shown in the volume, as are also the rules of the Royal Geographical Society together with a table dealing with the method of spelling and pronunciation adopted by that body with reference to names of native origin.

PORT ALBERNI OFFICE ROBBED
Steel Cabinet Forced Open at Stone Bros. Office—Mail Bag Taken

LITTLE CASH OBTAINED
PORT ALBERNI, Oct. 11.—The police have been unable to locate any clue which would lead to the arrest of the person or persons who broke into Stone Bros. office last Wednesday morning and forced the office steel cabinet. Investigations show that the office was entered by means of a pass key, and that the back entrance had been opened in order that a hasty retreat could be made.

The steel cabinet was broken open with a crowbar and some other strong instrument, the cash box removed, and the lid broken off. The thieves obtained only about $17 for their trouble. The fact that fifty-one cent pieces were also taken leads to the belief the robbery was committed by amateurs.

The most serious feature of the affair is that a sack of mail, containing, among other things, three registered letters, has also disappeared. Stone Brothers are contractors for His Majesty's mail for points down Alberni Canal and this was waiting for shipment. The mail included letters and parcels for the Government hydrographic survey party, which is working down the canal.

Another large bag of mail, in a back room, was overlooked. Fingerprint experts arrived from Victoria yesterday and made a report of the opinion that the thieves either used gloves or took the precaution to wipe off any tell-tale fingerprints.

BOARD WILL REVIEW SCHOOLS SITUATION
Statements of Minister of Education Are to Receive Attention of Victoria Trustees

"I have no further statements to make as I have not been asked any questions concerning my remarks to the delegates of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities," said Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, who returned yesterday from Kelowna, where he attended the convention of municipal representatives.

While addressing the delegates the minister, in referring to the cost of education, remarked that the Victoria High School appeared to be overvalued in comparison with the number of students and intimated that Victoria had fifty-two teachers instead of thirty-five, and, if Victoria would follow the standard set by Vancouver, a reduction of ten could be made in the staff.

STORAGE GRAIN IS EN ROUTE TO ELEVATOR HERE

Canadian National Officials Say Shipments Already on Track on Prairies

FIRST RECEIPTS MAY ARRIVE WITHIN WEEK

Moving westward to the Pacific Coast approximately 900,000 bushels of grain, destined for the Victoria elevator, is on track in the Prairie Provinces, it is stated by officials of the Canadian National Railways, and the first cars should arrive during next week.

The grain of the 1930 crop is being shipped to Port Mena, the Pacific Coast terminal of the Canadian National, and from that point the cars will be transported to the Victoria house by ferries. The grain is for export and will be shipped out from the local elevators as required. The shipments are presumed to be all wheat and will be held in the elevator here at the order of the Alberta Wheat Pool, which has a twelve months' lease on the plant, dating from October 1. Classification of the grain has not been stated.

POLICE SEEK MISSING BILL

Prosperity Week Dollar,
Placed in Circulation Yesterday Morning, Lost

WHEREABOUTS PUZZLING

Lost! One perfectly good Canadian dollar bill, which is attached to a slip of paper bearing the signatures of Mayor Anson, Cliff Denham and David Spencer. Any person harboring or keeping same is asked to telephone 1243 immediately. An advertisement such as the above might help to solve the whereabouts of the Prosperity Week dollar put into circulation yesterday morning at 8 o'clock from the mayor's office. In its first active transaction the bill was turned over to David Spencer, Ltd., in the purchase of Canadian-made goods in the pioneer store. Where it rests at this time, and what travels it has made is something that puzzles those in charge of Prosperity Week and city police.

When interviewed last night, Chief Fry stated that perhaps some young lady who has a weakness for collecting signatures of men in public life may have come across it and placed it among her souvenirs. Or, then again, he thought, someone may have wagered it on the wrestling bout at the Tillamook gymnasium. However, regardless of what the holder intends to do with it, the Chief stated that he has hopes of locating it before tomorrow morning. In the mean time the dollar bill which was put into circulation here yesterday to start Prosperity Week, is lost.

To this lonesome dollar bill traveling through the hands of Canadians, is attached a message impressing upon those who are fortunate enough to receive it, the necessity of buying Canadian-made goods.

Fine Programme Is Presented at Junior Musical

The decision to form a Junior branch of the Musical Art Society was fully justified in the large attendance at the opening programme of the year last evening, the reception-rooms at the home of Mrs. J. O. Cameron, 1088 Moss Street, lent for the occasion, being filled to capacity with keenly interested young musicians. Although a completely happy atmosphere prevailed, a thoroughly serious attitude toward music was shown in the quietly attentive way in which the audience listened to the performers and to Stanley Bulley, A.R.C.O., who gave an instructive little talk on "Melody." Miss Sheila Tait, the president, took charge of the proceedings, and Mrs. J. O. Cameron, president of the parent society, made one or two announcements, particularly reminding the members of the recital to be given by Mrs. S. MacLure at the Shrine Auditorium on October 24.

Senator Borah Wants Product of His State Made Monetary Basis

SPOKANE, Oct. 11.—Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, said today that establishment of an international monetary ratio between gold and silver is "an essential to world prosperity."

"The time is ripe," he told newspapermen, "to put through a silver and gold ratio acceptable to the leading nations of the world. And there are reasonable grounds to believe such an agreement might be had."

Few days ago the Manchester Board of Trade addressed a petition to Premier MacDonald of Great Britain, calling attention to the fact that the volume of world business was increasing and the gold supply was decreasing, and arguing that this would result in a fall of prices and an ever-increasing depression.

"If an agreement could be had, it would lead at once to a full use of silver in India, China and other countries. Fully one-half of the increasing family and gold supply and on any sound international agreement they would do so."

CULT OF WEEKS

We are not deeply impressed with the importance of that modern and almost universal institution, the Special Week, but there must be some virtue in the popular institution, or it would not have survived the siftings and arrows of the scoffers and sceptics. We have just finished the observance of one Week, the Week of warnings against that destructive element, Fire. We trust readers of the newspapers and listeners to lectures will not forget the lessons they are not so dangerous or destructive as they are during most of the other seasons of the year. When the sun is hot and everything is very dry and combustible, that is the time when precautions should be taken against fire. Therefore, be careful what you do with your cigarette when the last puff of comfort or consolation has been drawn from it. Carelessly discarded cigarette butts have been the cause of more fires even than the match of the pipe smoker which has been thrown away while still burning. The householder or the housewife also has been warned about the careless disposition of combustible material in the immediate neighborhood of the kitchen stove and the basement furnace. Eternal vigilance is the price of immunity from the scourge.

Having done our duty by Fire Week, we are entering today upon another Week equally important. This is Prosperity Week, or Buy Home Products Week. While it is true that by taking thought not a cubit can be added to the stature, it is equally true that by taking thought about what you buy the prosperity of the country may be materially increased. We in British Columbia are in a happier position than the people of any other part of Canada or the people of most parts of the world. Everything that is needed for the sustenance and comfort of the people is produced within the province. The products of our farms and orchards cannot be excelled and the manufacturing industries are expanding. But if the products of British Columbia come short of your requirements, buy in Canada. If you do that, the last word about hard times will soon be spoken.

THE ISSUE JOINED

The Socialist Government of Great Britain has definitely rejected the Imperial economic policy of the Conservative Government of Canada, a policy which has been endorsed by all the self-governing Dominions of the Empire. The hostility of the Socialist Government to the policy of the Conservative Government was evident from the beginning of the debate, and rejection was not unexpected. The Imperial Economic Conference may endorse the principle of the Bennett proposals, but there probably will be no meeting of delegates in Ottawa to discuss the details of the scheme now the irreconcilable opposition of one of the principal parties has been disclosed.

The British Government is wedded to its free trade principles and is convinced of the economic soundness of its views. The Overseas Dominions have been compelled by circumstances to adopt the principles of protection, with a modification of those principles in the interests of Imperial trade. The governments of the Overseas Dominions are also convinced of the soundness of their economic views, and in their case there can be no turning back. There may be changes of Government in those Dominions, but there will be no change in the economic views of the people or of the governments chosen by the people.

The Socialist Government is determined that Great Britain shall pursue her old established economic course and maintain a position of solitary isolation in a world which is committed to the principles of protection. The British Government says such markets as are available in foreign countries are of more importance to the British people than markets within the Empire which are already of some importance and may be developed into markets of great potential possibilities.

The Socialist Government has said its last word; but the word of the Socialist Government may not be the last word in the matter. The issue may be carried to a higher court, and the judgment of that court will be the determining factor. When the Premier of Canada laid before the Imperial Economic Conference his scheme for the development of Empire trade and the consolidation of the Empire upon a profitable, and therefore endurable, basis, he raised an issue which cannot be evaded or suppressed. Nor can the issue be met by the Socialist Government suggesting that it will propose something just as good for the Dominions and better for Great Britain. The adoption of Soviet principles of state control of production, purchase and distribution may be a matter of curiosity and interesting speculation to the classes which have made and sustained the Socialist Government, but it is a matter of indifference, at least to the people of Canada. The present British Government is closer in its relations and sympathies with Soviet Russia than it is in its relations and political sympathies with Canada. It is not easy to find out precisely what is going on in Russia, but there are reports that Russia has adopted a policy of mass production in her factories and on her farms by conscripted and cheap labor. If such reports are true, it is evident that the free Commonwealths of the Empire cannot successfully compete in prices with the products of the slave labor of the Soviet. The avowed Russian policy is to bring about a revolution in the world and compel the rest of the world to adopt the Soviet political and economic system. The present Prime Minister of Great Britain has avowed his sympathy with that system. We expect the Soviet Government is following with interest the course of the discussion and the culmination of events at the Imperial Economic Conference. If anything should occur at or following the Conference, indicative of discord in the British Empire, that would be fine feather for the Soviet to put in its bonnet.

THE UNEMPLOYED

The unemployed of Victoria have formed an organization, which, of course, is a proper thing for them to do, considering that this is an age of organization. But we observe that one of the members of the Victoria Unemployment or Unemployed Association purposes making the organization a permanent institution. That suggestion postulates that unemployment in Victoria will be permanent, for logically if all the unemployed were to secure employment, the employed would be ineligible for membership in the union, and there would be no further reason for its existence. Either that or certain of the members of the organization are incapable of being employed—and that is something we refuse to believe can be said of any capable person in this city, although it has been said of the unemployed in other places, where allegations have been made that unemployment in some cases becomes a habit.

We trust, therefore, that as soon as the Government at Ottawa, the Government at Victoria, and the administrations of the various municipalities have organized or co-ordinated their forces for the purpose of ending unemployment, the reason for the organization of an unemployment association in Victoria will have ceased to exist.

While unemployment seems to be chronic in many of the industrial centres of Canada, and, curiously enough, in some of the country districts, too, there is one town in Ontario which is conspicuous from the fact that there is not an idle person in it. That is the industrial town of Orangeville, the centre of a considerable textile industry. The explanation is that immediately the new tariff went into effect an active demand was made upon the mills for greater quantities of the goods they produced. Spindles which used to be motionless were set spinning and humming, and the industrious people of Orangeville are prosperous and happy.

AN UNFORTUNATE OBSESSION

Either as a result of the industry of constitutional quibblers or tinkers or in the natural course of events, the British Empire has been reduced to the status of a political abstraction or a geographical expression. The Empire has been resolved into a collection of independent units, destitute of either political or business cohesion. Whatever may be said in criticism of the Bennett policy, there is this to be said in its support: that it has provided an opportunity for uniting the different sections of the Empire upon a tangible basis. But it is almost an incomprehensible fact that the part of the Empire which should be most interested in the Bennett proposals seems to be most indifferent to those proposals. Whatever the decision of the Conference may be, the future of Canada is assured. A country which comprises half a continent, with great resources in process of development and with ample room for the absorption of a population far greater than the population of the United Kingdom, need not have any misgivings about its future. And yet the present British Government has declared that the cultivation of closer business relations with countries which are politically and industrially antagonistic to the Empire is more important to the British people than the cultivation of more intimate business relations with the greatest country within the Empire. Such is one result of being obsessed by a single discredited economic idea.

TESTAMENT OF BEAUTY

Ah, happy happy bough that cannot shed
 Your leaves, nor ever bid the Spring adieu;
 And, happy melody, that never
 For ever piping songs for ever new;
 More happy low that worships more happy love
 For ever warm and still to be enjoyed,
 For ever panting, and for ever young;
 All breathing human passion far above,
 That leaves a heart high-sorrowful and cloy'd,
 A burning forehead, and a parching tongue.

Who are these coming to the sacrifice?
 To what green altar, O mysterious priest,
 Lead'st thou that heifer lowing at the skies,
 And all her silken flanks with garlands drest?
 What little town by river or seashore,
 Or mountain-built with peaceful walls,
 Is emptied of its folk, this pious morn?
 And, little town, thy streets for evermore
 Will silent be; and not a soul to our
 Why thou art desolate, can e'er return.

O little chapel! Fair attitude! with bread
 Of marble men and maidens overwrought,
 With forest branches and the trodden weed;
 Thou silent form, dost tease us out of thought
 As doth eternity! Cold Pastoral!
 When old age shall this generation waste,
 Thou shalt remain, in midst of other woe
 Than ours, a friend to man, to whom thou say'st,
 "Beauty is truth, truth beauty,"—that is all Ye know on earth, and all ye need to know."
 —John Keats.

MOUNT DOUGLAS PARK

Sir,—I should like everyone interested to go out and see what has been done at Mount Douglas Park. It seems to me to be one of the worst things that has ever been perpetrated in one of our public parks. I can see no reason for a new unsightly road where there was a beautiful road which only wanted widening and some of the underbrush cleared on the south side; but a new, perfectly straight road (imagine this in a park) has apparently been endeavored to be run through, cutting, of course, everything in its way: Dogwood, arbutus, fir, maple and cedar trees. The only remedy I can see for anything like this is to have a person who is not a politician, but a person of a drastic nature be done without reference to it. The trouble is, as someone in authority in Saanich said, we have rushed the best down, what can you do about it? Even so, my advice would be let them grow up again. Why have two roads? Why not have one road, so that people can enjoy the park a great many beautiful trees have been destroyed in a few hours by an enormous gang of men and can never be replaced.

When the road is cut like this through the forest, a great many trees on either side of the road, lacking their accustomed support, are likely to be blown down, and there may be this winter. Go and see the destruction.

VISITORS' IMPRESSIONS

Sir,—After traveling for six weeks in the States, and arriving at your "Victoria (B.C.)" from our Victoria (Australia).

It is needless to say how its beauty charms us or how strong are the links that bind the two cities. We notice Australian oranges are selling here, and I am wondering if it is sending "coals to Newcastle" to inclose a recipe for marmalade we use in Australia. The rather rare sweetness and flavor of the fruit make for a much-valued preserve. At the same time I want to say "Thank you" for your clean journalism. One has only to travel in the United States to come away to find the dignity of literature is upheld to learn the blessing to mankind.

So it is with gratitude I sign myself your fellow Britisher.

VIOLET M. FAWCETT.

99 Swanston Street, Melbourne.

Recipe—1 lemon, 5 oranges (Australian), 6 cups of water, 6 pounds of sugar. Cut into fine slices and soak in the water for two days. Boil slowly for two hours, or until tender; add sugar (brewers' crystals, if possible), and cook for two and a half hours, or until it jells.

WEST COAST ROUTES

Sir,—While the question of building roads to the West Coast of Vancouver Island, and particularly those parts of it known as Long Beach and also Clayoquot Sound is being settled, it is well to consider ferries. From Ucluelet to Tofofo a road-way, including the beach and fully thirty miles in length, can easily be put in order for automobiles to run over by next Summer.

But there is no connection between Ucluelet and the roadways of the rest of Vancouver Island. If a service ferry capable of transporting motor cars was provided to run from Port Alberni, there is no reason why a reasonably smart craft should not make the trip to Ucluelet twice each day of the Summer season and at that time of year, at least, in smooth water.

That would be a welcome assistance to the business interests of those parts, as Mr. Beckwith has often pointed out to boards of trade and chambers of commerce. But it would also bring the orbit of the tourist into new territory in his swing around the country, and would be a growing as well as an ever new attraction.

Even when Sproat Lake, Ucluelet, Long Beach and Clayoquot Sound road is made ready for motors, it is a question if the traffic would justify the expense of keeping it open in winter for some time to come. There are snowfalls on those high levels in winter.

Therefore, on all grounds—cost, utility, the immediate opening of a new route of common benefit to all sections, including Nanaimo—the writer submits this proposal is worthy of early consideration by the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Provincial Government.

WEST COAST

Sir,—As a visitor to your city, may I be permitted to occupy some of your space on the above subject, which seems to be of local interest.

From Victoria to Jordan River is a trip of about fifty miles; good roads, little used by Victoria people. The vicinity is uninteresting, largely because it is a continuous display of inefficient farming. What is the reason?

I note the rainfall on the sea coast is very heavy. Victoria averages 27.17 inches a year, while Jordan River is 68.94 inches, and other spots between here and Bamfield run as high as 129.93 inches.

I learn that the Jordan River Road has been built for twenty years.

Victoria is reputed to be the richest per capita town in Canada.

Why have not Victorians built a nice hotel at Jordan River to cater to the tourist trade? They also surely should have spent some of their spare cash opening up the vast potential wealth between here and Bamfield.

If you want good ocean scenery, why not develop the wonder water-front you have neglected, just round your city?

Question my writing these questions, but often strangers see things which local people overlook.

LONG BEACH-SPROAT LAKE ROAD

Sir,—Having read several letters and speeches in recent papers, I feel that the following information would possibly interest some of your readers.

The Long Beach road has been before the Government for thirty years. In 1913 the Government voted $50,000; $13,000 was spent that year to make a survey; the balance was transferred to Sirincoona Park. Was that fair to the settlers of Ucluelet, Tofofo and district? Since 1913 nothing has been done except the road survey being done again, again part of the way by the Department of Mines. The Government has been petitioned and delegates have met the ministers time and time again without any apparent results.

On January 22 of this year a delegation of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island had an interview with Hon. W. A. Mackenzie, Acting Minister of Public Works, and P. Philip. All of the boards were represented, including Victoria. Mr. Fowler, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, was one of the speakers. All were of the opinion that the Long Beach road should be the main issue as far as new road construction was concerned.

According to the survey, the road would be approximately fifty miles, of easy grade, with no engineering difficulties. The longest bridge would be 100 feet. Passing through some of the best scenery possible, Sproat Lake is famous for its scenery. Kennedy Lake would gain greater fame and be even more popular as a tourist resort if this road was put through. There are numerous sandy beaches and nooks dear to the tourist. Long Beach itself is a stretch of hard sand, surpassed by none, if information I have received is correct. Just imagine the beauty of miles and miles of surf rolling in. Wouldn't the kids have fun adjoining on one side you have Barkley Sound with its hundreds of islands, bays and beaches, with snow-capped mountains in the background.

One cannot imagine the beauty of this sound unless one has visited there. The other side of Long Beach is Clayoquot Sound, which is an inland sea, with miles and miles of shore front, nooks and bays, and beaches everywhere, with a background of snow-capped mountains all around.

Our ministers of today have had all this information, including photos. In my opinion it is a shame that this country is not opened up for the benefit of the people of British Columbia. They should have a right to spend their holidays on the coast. The people of that district should have a right to be able to visit other parts of the island without waiting for a boat to pick them up. The industries are seriously handicapped, especially in the winter, when it is sometimes impossible to go outside of the harbor. The fresh fish industry is a gamble, when the boats are put through, fish could be landed at Victoria or Vancouver in a few hours. This road would benefit one hundred and fifty miles of the Coast, two thousand people and numerous industries, including salteries, canneries, reduction plants and sawmills.

This matter was taken up strongly by the Port Alberni Board of Trade, with E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R. and party, on his recent visit. He promised his whole-hearted support. According to your paper he did so as soon as he arrived in Victoria.

The question before us now is: What is holding the Government back? They have the support of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, the C.P.R. and others. Is it that they are playing favorites with Victoria and district members, and refuse to consider the rights of this part of Vancouver Island?

When the gas tax was raised to 5 cents a gallon we in this district felt sure that we would receive favorable consideration. We have received for our money? I cordially invite any of the ministers in the House to visit this district and see for themselves.

QUESTION OF TAXATION

Sir,—If it is true, by statute, municipal taxes do not become due until the end of December each year, will some kind reader of The Daily Colonist enlighten me on the reason why cash penalties are added to each individual amount if not paid before that date.

PETTY CRITICISMS

Sir,—I was rather amused at the heading "A Wide Margin," in Thursday night's Times on page 4, where they try to belittle Mr. R. B. Bennett on the unemployment issue. This is what was said, in part: "Elect me and I will end unemployment," and claim that this was one of Mr. Bennett's promises. Mr. Bennett has been our Premier now for between two and three months, and does The Times really think that it is possible to end the unemployment in so short a time? The Premier has been nobly so far. Who can help but admire his stand and his straight from the shoulder tactics; no quibbling, no ifs and ands; no false language or flowery statements, but as we have been told, "Elect me and I will end unemployment," and does The Times really think that it is possible to end the unemployment in so short a time? The Premier has been nobly so far. Metal Workers of Germany Face Reduction in Wages Through Court Order

Gov't Inaugurates Campaign to Cut Scales in Various Industries

By NEALEY PARSON
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—A determined Government attack to reduce the wages of the German worker has been launched in a decision of a special arbitration court in a labor dispute involving 150,000 Berlin metal workers.

Last night a decision was handed down whereby wage of all these workers over eighteen years of age are to be cut by 8 per cent. The wages of those below eighteen years and of female workers are to be cut 6 per cent. Those working on "system" are to be cut by the same ratio.

COURT GIVES REASONS
In the decision the court reasons given for the cuts are outlined as follows:

1. The court is convinced that a reduction of wages for lowering the cost of production is absolutely necessary.

2. Reduction of wages means a decrease in unemployment.

3. It is better from the standpoint of social policy, in the present crisis, to reduce wages which were established in times of high industrial prosperity rather than to hold them up and further increase unemployment.

The arbitrator declared that the demand from the employers of a 15 per cent round cut in wages could not be fulfilled.

NO SHORTER HOURS
The arbitrator pointed out the court's inability to hand down a decision on the question of working shorter hours in order to absorb more unemployed, as hours of labor are still locked by an agreement between employers and workers.

But if both parties think that a change is desirable, the court said, he recommends that this be accomplished by direct negotiations between them.

In this connection it is interesting to point out that many workers in the German metal industry are already working on short hours and that a change, say from an eight to a six-hour day throughout all industries in Germany would probably not be able to absorb more than 500,000 unemployed. And even this should also affect those already on short time, their wages would come down to a level so closely approaching the unemployment level itself that the inducement to work would be removed.

INDUSTRY IS OPPOSED
Industry as a whole does not favor reduction of working hours and the addition of a mass of new workers, as that slows up production time, both in beginning and stopping work, and results in production loss by filling in new hands.

It is absolutely dark yet what the German workers are going to do about such decisions. The moral pressure of the unemployed, which now number over 3,000,000, is exerting an impressive influence over those still at work—it may even be strong enough to prevent them from striking. On the other hand, there is little doubt that the radical wing of German trade unionism has been gaining strength and that it might call for opposition from organized workers.

Bangkok, Singapore, will have strikes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington G. Garner, recently of Calgary, Alta., have taken up their residence at 1433 Grant Street, and will make their future home in Victoria.

Mr. Garner is a sheet metal worker and will engage in business here, especially devoting his time to house heating and vacuum cleaning of ranges and furnaces, a new and up-to-date method of ridding house-heating plants of soot and other debris. Mr. Garner has the only portable vacuum cleaning apparatus for this work west of Winnipeg, and it is especially useful where coal is used as the fuel.

"THE APATHY OF VICTORIANS" from R.T. Williams' new point.

SIR.—The above illustration covers to a large extent the way we deal with many matters that, on the other hand, if we as a community had guarded in the past more zealously in our own best interests, Vancouver Island would have within her borders at least three times the population we have at the present time.

To give as a reason for our lack of unbounded prosperity that other parts of the Province have been too grasping in a very poor excuse. Rather allow it to act as an example to us that will be the means to urge us on to better efforts in the interests of this Island in the future. Since 1921, $51,000,000 of provincial funds have been devoted to road building and repairs in this province, out of which the Island should have received at least one-quarter of the amount to build trunk roads (so badly needed at Vancouver Island), but in lieu of one-quarter of the above amount we secured grudgingly about one-fifth in new trunk road building and upkeep of our Island roads during the last nine years.

There is a remedy left us to adopt if all on this Island will encourage by every means possible the building of an automobile trunk road and automobile toll suspension bridges at Seymour Narrows to join up with the twenty thousand miles of trunk and ordinary wagon roads of the Mainland of British Columbia, thereby enjoying the vast thoroughfares we on this Island have contributed so largely to build and keep up. To secure our full share of the tourist trade and other advantages that should come our way, the Seymour Narrows project, which will shortly be made public, must have wholehearted support so that the great undertaking, with as little loss of time as possible, shall become an accomplished fact.

PASSENGER IS KILLED WHEN CARS COLLIDE

Miss Patricia Labelle Victim in Vancouver Accident—Companion Injured

TWO MOTORISTS FACE MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

VANCOUVER, Oct. 11.—Her neck broken when the car in which she was a passenger overturned following a collision with another automobile at Nelson and Thurlow Streets, at 1:10 a.m., Miss Patricia Labelle, aged twenty-three, Pacific Street, was instantly killed, and her companion, Mable B. Nichols, aged fifteen, West Eighth, was severely injured.

The car in which the two women were passengers was driven by G. F. Hale, West Second Avenue. The second car was driven by G. M. Pugh, Nelson Street. Both drivers have been charged with manslaughter and bail has been fixed at $10,000 each. Pugh was released on bonds shortly after the accident.

REMANDED IN COURT

In police court this morning, the drivers were remanded for a week, pending the coroner's inquest.

According to police reports, Hale's car was proceeding north on Thurlow and Pugh's east on Nelson. They collided and Hale's auto skidded and overturned.

Miss Labelle, according to police, was thrown partly out of the car, and when the vehicle fell on its side, her head was caught under the body of the auto. Her neck was broken. She was taken to St. Paul's Hospital, but had evidently been killed immediately.

DRIVERS ESCAPE INJURY

The Nichols girl, it is reported, suffered a broken pelvis bone and head injuries. She was taken home by friends. Both drivers escaped injury.

The accident was witnessed by Constables H. Morrison and J. McLean.

FUR BUSINESS TO BE RUN BY EASTERN MAN

A. E. Alexander, Well Known in East, Acquires Foster's Fur Store, Government Street

Victoria's splendid possibilities as a market for high-class products has attracted yet another Eastern business man to this city.

The newcomer, A. E. Alexander, president of the Cameron Lumber Company of this city, will be one of the B.C. businessmen to visit the Orient on the tour which has been arranged for by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Cameron will represent the B.C. Lumbermen's Association on the trip. He leaves by the Empress of Russia on Thursday and will be absent, he expects, for about two months' time. Many of the party, representative of various Canadian industries, will stay over in the East instead of returning immediately with the steamer Empress of Russia.

PAST TWO MONTHS' WORK REVIEWED

Excellent reports of the past two months' activities were presented by members at the directors' meeting of the Y.W.C.A., held on Friday afternoon at the association's building. Mrs. Arthur Walsh presided.

Mrs. Cullen, treasurer, and Mrs. Niven, chairman of the finance committee, presented gratifying reports concerning the operation of the association's building. Mrs. Scott reported for the house committee.

Mrs. F. Norris, convenor of the membership committee, drew special attention to the membership list to be held in conjunction with the anniversary of the opening of the building on Saturday, October 26.

Reference was made to the forthcoming visit of Mrs. Foster and Miss Hutchinson, officers of the National Y.W.C.A. Council, who will be in the city shortly in connection with the work of the association.

Mrs. Cullen, treasurer, and Mrs. Niven, chairman of the finance committee, presented gratifying reports concerning the operation of the association's building. Mrs. Scott reported for the house committee.

City & District

Matrons on Fire—City firemen answered a call to 1729 Second Street at 4:55 o'clock yesterday afternoon to extinguish fire in a mattress.

Progressing Favorably—William Daisiel, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Daisiel, 652 Garbally Road, who was injured in a truck accident on Friday afternoon, is progressing favorably at St. Joseph's Hospital, according to reports received last night from Dr. A. D. Bechler, the attending physician.

Returning Home—Dr. and Mrs. Burt C. Richards are expected home on Wednesday next after an absence of five months in the Eastern States, during which Dr. Richards took a postgraduate course at Columbia University and other centres. He will resume his practice in partnership with Dr. E. H. Griffiths on Monday, October 20, at the Kresge Building.

A Huge Potato—With the pride of the crop weighing between 3-2 and 7 pounds, George Hutchison, 843 Colville Road, yesterday dug up seven potatoes having a total weight of thirty-five pounds. Hutchison, who makes a hobby of vegetable growing, having a one-acre plot at the rear of his house, was digging in his garden to obtain a few potatoes for dinner and came across this huge sample.

Leaves For South—George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, left yesterday afternoon on a motor tour of California. The trip which Mr. Warren is making is in the interests of the publicity work of the city. He will attend several gatherings on the way and will investigate the opportunities for increased advantages in the matter of advertising the city during the coming year.

Back From Convention—Alderman James Adam, of the Victoria City Council, returned yesterday from attending the annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, held in Kelowna Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Alderman Adam attended the convention as one of the five delegates from the council. The others, who will return today, were Mayor Herbert Anson and Aldermen W. H. Cullen, J. L. Mara and John Worthington.

University Extension Lecture—The university extension lecture to be given by Professor G. C. Sedgewick on Thursday next at 8:15 p.m., will be given at the Central School instead of Victoria College, owing to the larger audience which this popular speaker usually attracts. His subject will be "Christina Rossetti." This being the first lecture of the season, the secretary of the association will be on hand early to receive membership fees from any who have been unable to call at the public library to give these to Miss Clay.

Will Visit Orient—J. O. Cameron, president of the Cameron Lumber Company of this city, will be one of the B.C. businessmen to visit the Orient on the tour which has been arranged for by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Cameron will represent the B.C. Lumbermen's Association on the trip. He leaves by the Empress of Russia on Thursday and will be absent, he expects, for about two months' time. Many of the party, representative of various Canadian industries, will stay over in the East instead of returning immediately with the steamer Empress of Russia.

H. A. DAVIE, LTD., TO SELL PONTIACS HERE

Firm Has Been Appointed by General Motors of Canada as Victoria Representatives

An announcement of considerable interest to all, and especially to Pontiac owners and prospective owners, is that by the General Motors of Canada of the appointment of H. A. Davie, Ltd., as Victoria and district dealers for the Pontiac car. This is an additional line to their present ones of Buick, Cadillac, and Oldsmobile cars. Ray Meldrum, until recently associated with the sale of Pontiacs, has now joined the firm and will continue to specialize in the line which he has placed so much faith in. One of the most stringent rules in the firm of H. A. Davie, Ltd., has always been that of specialized service, and now this policy will be carried out in favor of Pontiac owners and purchasers. Frank Ivings, who has concentrated upon the repair and service of Pontiac cars since they came to Victoria, has also joined the firm of H. A. Davie, Ltd., insuring the owners of Pontiac a high standard of service by one who has made a special study of the features of the car. The latest models are now on display in the showrooms on Yates Street.

SAYS EXPLOSION NOT CAUSE OF R-101 DEATHS

BEAUVAIS, France, Oct. 11.—Georges Rabouille, a Frenchman, who says he is the only person who saw the crash of the British airship R-101 near here Sunday, asserted today that the victims were not killed by an explosion when the airship struck the ground, but were burned to death.

Rabouille said he was only one hundred yards away when the disaster occurred, and declared that when the dirigible burst into flames he heard people in the wreckage crying for help. He added that he became frightened and ran away.

AN INTERESTING FAMILY HISTORY

Dr. Robert G. Jackson's paternal grandfather, father, and eleven paternal uncles and aunts, and his mother and sister all died of heart disease. At 50 the doctor himself only four months to live, dying from heart disease and "general breakdown." He lived five years on the ground floor, unable to climb stairs. Four years after Oiler gave him up he climbed the fifty stories in Washington's Monument, up and down, and was not even tired. All a result of changed living habits—chiefly a change from civilization's disease-causing acid foods to alkaliforming Roman Meal. His 48-page book, "HOW TO BE ALWAYS WELL," tells the entire story—shows how anyone may be always well, by natural means. Remit $5.00 by P.O. order for a copy, or write for descriptive literature, to ROBERT G. JACKSON, M.D., 34 Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont., or write for his free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," and sample of Roman Meal and the new alkaline beverage, "Kofy-sub." (Adv.)

GRAHAM-PAIGE MAKES STRIDES

Steady and Consistent Development Shown Here for Past Eight Years

POPULARITY IS PROVED

The faith shown by Eve Bros. Limited, in the Graham-Paige car has been more than borne out by the development of the line during the years they have held the post as popular cars in the market today. The corporation's cash account standing is shown as $14,554,284, with total current assets of $14,000,000, current liabilities of $3,455,534, and a surplus of over $11,000,000. Over $4,000,000 in cash is also available. Such is the strong stand made by Graham-Paige, which the firm of Eve Bros. Ltd., have cast their lot, and as Victoria dealers have shown nothing but steady and consistent development since 1922.

At their first location they were situated close to the Standard Steam Laundry, on View Street, but the need for larger showrooms and repair shops soon forced a move to the present site at the corner of Port and Quadra, made in the following year. Both Cecil and Ernest Eve brought to the concern the experience of years of mechanical work, both having been affiliated with the automobile business since early days. Largely responsible for the steady growth found here has been the unusually high standard of service, both in the sale of new cars and in repair work. Now the management announces the addition of a wheel alignment department. This special division will be equipped with modern and up-to-date machinery possible to procure, and it is already on the way to Victoria.

CUSTOMERS PROTECTED The mechanical work, under the charge of Harry Davies, who, with over twenty years' experience in the motor field behind him, has aided largely in the building up of this progressive firm. In the used car department it is a fixed policy to allow no models to be sold before they have been thoroughly reconditioned and are ready to give miles of rugged service. This protection to their customers has won the confidence of all. The latest models of Graham-Paige cars are on display and the high record of sales in Victoria testifies to the popularity of this medium priced car.

Eve Bros. Ltd., now open an aviation department, featuring the sale and service of the low-winged monoplane, for which they hold the exclusive British Columbia agency. Both brothers are qualified pilots and their intimate knowledge of local conditions allows them to give expert advice and information on all subjects connected with this newest mode of transportation.

Women's Activities

Clubs and Societies

Metichosin W.A.

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Mary's Church, Metichosin, was held on Thursday afternoon at the vicarage. The usual reports were received and regular business attended to. The president, Miss F. I. Blythe referred to the outstanding success of the harvest supper, and expressed gratitude to Mrs. Bolton and Miss Chegwinn, who assisted her at the supper, also to all the members and friends of the district who responded so generously, and the junior members for their help in selling the tickets and folding the table napkins for the supper table; also to Rev. M. H. Bolton and the church committee who arranged the programme. About $80 was raised, of which some will be given to the general fund of St. Mary's Church. It was decided that the annual meeting would be held on a different day, and not at the conclusion of the regular meeting, which has been the custom. The regular meeting will be held on Thursday, November 13, and the annual meeting on Thursday, December 4. Miss Milne read a chapter of the new study book on Japan, and afternoon tea was served.

Columbia W.A.

The monthly meeting of the Diocesan Board of the Columbia W.A. will be held at St. Matthias' Church, Foul Bay, on Friday. There will be corporate Communion service at 10:30 o'clock, to precede the meeting. At the afternoon session the Dominion reports will be read. Members are advised to take No. 6 car to Wolsley Avenue.

—Photograph by O'Hara.

MISS MARY MACKAY
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Mackay, St. Charles Street, who will make her formal entry into society tomorrow night at Mr. W. R. Laidlaw's ball at the Empress Hotel.

F.O.E. Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary, No. 12, F.O.E., held its meeting on Tuesday night in the Eagles' Hall. Three applications were read and Winter activities were planned. It was arranged to hold a gingham and novelty dance at the next meeting and a guest tea and sale at some future date. It was decided to make arrangements for the third anniversary when the past president pins would be presented.

St. Joseph's W.A.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital held its monthly meeting in the sewing room at the hospital Friday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Frank Sehl, was in the chair. There was a large attendance of members and most of the business transacted was in regard to the bazaar and sale of work to be held Thursday, November 6 in the auditorium of the Nurses Home. The president asked that a standing vote of sympathy be passed to the family of the late Mr. Walter Fraser, and a letter of condolence be sent to Mrs. Fraser. The convener of sewing reported $288 pieces of work completed last month: Towels, 510; surgeons' gowns, 55; diapers, 50; sheets, 40; wrappers, 31; kimono, 28; operation coats, 19; pillow covers, 18; pitcher covers, 16; children's nightgowns, 13; basket covers, 9; sponges, 7,480.

Seoke W.A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Holy Trinity Church to the M.S.C. was held at the home of Mrs. H. McBride on Wednesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Bowen-Colthurst, presiding. General business was discussed and a sum of money was voted to be given to the church wardens to be applied toward the upkeep of the church. It was decided to hold the next meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Hawkins, "The Yew," Maple Avenue. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. McBride, assisted by Miss McBride. Those present were Mrs. Bowen-Colthurst, Mrs. S. Stacey, Mrs. W. Locke, Mrs. J. S. Muir, Mrs. G. Troup, Mrs. A. Hawkins, Mrs. H. McBride.

Daughters of England

Lodge Primrose, No. 32, Daughters of England, met for the business meeting on Friday evening in the S.O.E. Hall, the worthy president, Mrs. Skett, in the chair. Three new members were initiated into the order. Good financial reports were given of the recent rummage sale, dance and card party. The shower for the annual bazaar held at the home of Mrs. McKenna, D.W.G.P., resulted in a large number of useful articles being donated. It was decided to hold another shower at the home of Mrs. Skett, Lee Avenue, on Friday. After the next meeting a five hundred card party will be held, convened by Mrs. Mortimer.

Britannia Auxiliary

Miss Margaret Mackenzie has graciously accepted the office of honorary president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. The president and secretary visited Government House last week and explained the activities of the auxiliary to Miss Mackenzie, who showed a keen interest in the work and was delighted to accept the office of presidency. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday at 8 o'clock in the clubrooms, View Street. It is requested that books for the Hope Chest be returned that evening. Arrangements for the dance, to be held on October 30, will be made.

Club Meets

The first meeting of the C.C. Club was held at Miss Helen Boyd's home on Michigan Street, on Thursday evening, when an enjoyable time was spent playing bridge. The first prize was won by Miss Eleanor Cudlip and the consolation by Miss Phyllis Hodgson. Those playing were Misses Iris Sheret, Dorothea Daniels, Margaret McKenna, Jennie Stewart, Margaret Hemmingson, Phyllis Hodgson, Eleanor Cudlip, Helen Bolt, Evelyn McDonald, Mae and Elma Innes, and Grace Copas.

Pythian Sisters

The Pythian Sisters of Island Temple No. 3, held their regular meeting on Thursday evening, M.E.C. Mrs. White presiding. The usual business was transacted. Next meeting night the initiation of several new members will take place. During the Winter months a series of card games will be given by the Knights of Far West Lodge No. 1, the first of which will take place on November 13.

King's Daughters

The King's Daughters will hold an invitation tea on Saturday, October 18, from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock in the rest room, Hibernia-Bone Building.

Wedding Date Set for End of December

Canadian Prosperity Week

Accords With Our Consistent Policy

Throughout the years of our steady growth in reputation and establishment we have fought to maintain the principle of Canadian Goods for Canadian Buyers. Now with an official week set aside for this promotion we hasten to indorse the movement.

With realization of the high quality of Canadian Goods has come increased volume of business to Canadian Manufacturers, bringing the attendant advantage of better work and merchandising.

It rests with the individual to decide the prosperity of Our Dominion, both by co-operation during this special week and after. A dollar spent on Canadian Goods means support of your local merchant, your home manufacturer and your country.

Throughout our five departments are displayed famous lines of Canadian-Manufactured Goods, equaling in quality and value any it is possible to procure. We ask you to make an inspection of our store, if only to realize the high standard of Canadian Manufacture.

Pound Party Held for Nanaimo Hospital

NANAIMO, Oct. 11.—The pound shower held yesterday to celebrate the second anniversary of the opening of the Nanaimo General Hospital was eminently successful. Receiving the many guests were Miss Boggs, the lady supervisor, assisted by Mrs. J. Nichols, president of the Hospital Women's Auxiliary Society. Centing the donation table, which was soon filled, was a birthday greeting cake, donated by the Veterans' Bakery, with candles burning to symbolize the years. The gifts were received by Mrs. Bulman, the convener; Mrs. Boothroy, Mrs. Welgie and Mrs. G. Johnson, with Mrs. Cochenour listing, many gifts were received from friends who were unable to attend. Mr. A. M. Turner made a very efficient registrar. There were 110 visitors.

After a visit through the hospital the guests were escorted to the reception room, where tea was served from a table decorated with beautiful gold chrysanthemums and daisies, and pale pink candies in silver settings.

Mrs. G. B. Brown and Mrs. A. J. King opened the hour, presiding at the urn, followed by Mrs. Drysdale, Mrs. Leighton, Mrs. A. E. Planta, Mrs. G. A. E. Hall, Mrs. Welgie and Mrs. Bradford.

The following ladies served: Mrs. W. E. Rummeling, Mrs. J. Kneen, Mrs. A. D. Wilson, Miss Ena Brown, Miss Miller, Mrs. Cyril Baker, Mrs. L. Lawrence, Mrs. E. Mitchell and Mrs. Peake. The corridors were gaily decorated with a profusion of flowers donated by Messrs. Gould and L. Jones were a great attraction and very much admired.

At Beverley Hotel

Guests at the Beverley Hotel Apartments include Mr. and Mrs. W. Garrett and Miss O. Garrett, of Banff; Mr. E. C. Seip, Mr. W. E. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. A. Nordstrom, Mrs. E. J. Groom and daughter, and Mr. R. G. Smith, all of Vancouver; Rev. and Mrs. MacLean Goldie, of Port Angeles.

Miscellaneous Shower
Mrs. L. L. Patterson, 2008 Fernwood Road, entertained on Thursday evening at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. John Cook, formerly Miss Ina Hendry, a recent bride. The many beautiful gifts were presented to the bride in a large chest, decorated with a color scheme of pale yellow and mauve and standing on a dais, covered with contrasting shades of garlands of tulle. The rooms were beautifully decorated with a profusion of cut flowers, the beautifully arranged baskets of flowers and several novelty ideas being the handwork of Mrs. W. H. Brown. The bride opened the numerous gifts seated beneath a large floral horseshoe in colors of pale yellow and mauve wisteria, after which ceremony refreshments were served by the hostess, the "place de resistance" being a huge wedding cake of ice cream in shades of white and pale pink, with decoration of silver. The guests included Mesdames W. Hendry, Vernon Smith, John Ewing, Victor Harte, Ed. Hall, O. Corbett, C. H. Freer, Viola Noble, Hugh Francis, G. Fair, F. Sutton, George Calder, Howard Tyrrell, F. Humphreys, Bullock, Barrett, Fortester, H. Bradley, Alex. Wallace, J. A. Stewart, and Misses Marion Tyrrell, B. Butler, Eileen Berks and Nettie Cook.

Entertains Friends
Miss F. Spouse entertained recently at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. White, 808 Craigflower Road, in honor of Miss Mary L. Trowsdale, whose marriage will take place shortly. The bride-to-be, entering the room, was escorted to her seat by little Raymond White. After the bride was seated Miss Nancy White did a very pretty rose dance. The many beautiful gifts were concealed in a miniature lighthouse. The invited guests were as follows: Mesdames Trowsdale, White, Trowsdale, Wishart (Espinosa), Sohier (Alberni), Gardiner, Bevan-Pritchard, Spouse, Morry, Ellis, Isaacson, Spence, More, Wilkinson, Dunn, Merritt, Hunt, Pauline, Latham, Clarke, Slater, Monk, Elmore and Nex, Misses Mary Trowsdale, F. Perhaps we shouldn't say so! BUT...

We've simply got to do a little boasting at this particular juncture! We're just simply dying to tell you that we believed in this doctrine of Canadian goods for Canadian prosperity as long as 18 years ago! . . . that 90% of our apparel for 18 years has been Canadian-made apparel and that RIGHT NOW 95% of it is!

You see, we're rather proud of this record and we simply can't resist the temptation to boast about it a little. When you buy a smart coat, suit, frock, fur coat or ensemble at Mallek's, NINE TIMES OUT OF TEN you're buying a Canadian product and helping Canadian prosperity. Canadian garments are as finely made as any importation. Canadian styles are copies and adaptations of Parisian models, available at Mallek's within a fortnight or so of their original creation. And ALWAYS, the Canadian garment at Mallek's offers you infinitely more value for your dollar than any foreign product. And that, surely, is a really vital point!

Malahat Chapter Is Organized

A new chapter of the I.O.D.E. was formed at Esquimalt Lake on Friday at the home of Mrs. Winters, Rosedale Inn. Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Provincial president, was in the chair, and Mrs. Haley, Provincial organizing secretary from Chilliwack, was present to organize the new chapter, which is to be called the Malahat. Eighteen were enrolled as charter members. The officers are as follows: Honorary regent, Mrs. Eardley-Wilmut; regent, Mrs. Kinloch; first vice-regent, Mrs. Stewart-MacLeod; second vice-regent, Mrs. Cooper; secretary, Mrs. Bell; treasurer, Mrs. Bloomquist; educational secretary, Mrs. J. Cooke; standard-bearer, Mrs. More. The standard was presented by Mrs. Sampson, and the gratitude of the chapter for the gift was expressed by Mrs. Bensley. A presentation was made to Mrs. Sampson as a memento of the occasion.

Tokio and Yokohama will observe, in December, the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of their first telephone exchanges.

Victoria Teacher Wed Last Night

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lewis, 1410 Harrison Street, and Mr. Harry Sinclair Jones, son of Mr. Thomas Jones, 1166 View Street, and of the late Mrs. Jones, took place last night at 8:30 in the Metropolitan United Church in the presence of a large congregation. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Elliott, B.A., assisted by Dr. C. T. Scott.

The floral decorations had been carried out in a color scheme of yellow and mauve, Michaelmas daisies, golden rod, dahlias and chrysanthemums having been arranged with artistic effect on the platform in bowls and tall baskets, interspersed with tubs of palms and an arch of flowers had been erected over the central aisle.

Mrs. Parsons played the wedding marches, and during the signing of the register Mrs. Pebernart, representing the Victoria Ladies' Choir, sang "Still as the Night." The choir attended en masse.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, the bride was a radiant figure in her wedding gown of heavy white satin cut on long lines, with a tight sleeveless bodice finished with a deep cape collar of lace and a flared skirt which reached to the floor all round. Her veil of silk net was attached to a cap of lace which was outlined with seed pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia and sweetheart roses.

BRIDAL ATTENDANTS
Miss Marjorie Bell, of Vancouver, was maid of honor, in a frock of pale blue georgette made with a long full skirt and a sleeveless bodice which had a deep cape collar, and it was trimmed in front with a strand of French flowers. She wore a French model hat of pastel blue felt with self trimming.

There were two bridesmaids, Miss Elaine Fox and Miss Gertrude Lewis, of Vancouver, a cousin of the bride. They were dressed alike in frocks of georgette, the former in blue and the latter in orchid, made with flared skirts and bolero bodices, and both wore felt hats to match their costumes. All three carried bouquets of gladioli and chrysanthemums to blend with the general color scheme.

Little Betty Muncy was the flower girl, dressed in apple green tulle over pale pink. Her skirt was appliqued with rose buds, and she wore a wreath of roses and carried a basket of rose petals which she strewed in front of the bridal couple as they left the church.

Mr. Cecil Jones supported his brother, and the ushers were Mr. A. W. Bradley, Dr. A. Lewis (Seattle), a brother of the bride, and Mr. W. Muncy.

RECEIVE GUESTS
A largely attended reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, which had been arranged with masses of flowers in shades of mauve and yellow, and the three-tier cake had the place of honor on the supper table.

The bride and groom were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Lewis in a gown of French ninon over satin trimmed with gold panne velvet and hat to match, and by Miss Edna Jones, sister of the groom, who wore a costume of apple green lace with hat en suite.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left later by motor on their wedding trip, the bride wearing a frock of dark brown ninon, appliqued in velvet, a fur felt hat with cut velvet trimming and a muskrat coat. On their return they will make their home at 1386 Oliver Street.

Married Last Night to Mr. Harry Jones

MRS. HARRY S. JONES
Whose marriage took place last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Metropolitan United Church. The bride was formerly Miss Elizabeth Lewis, of 1410 Harrison Street.

Wedding Celebrated at Cathedral

Christ Church Cathedral was filled with a large congregation last night for the wedding of Amy Irene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Richardson, 1619 Quadra Street, and Captain Claude Deane-Freeman, fourth son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. Deane-Freeman, Ireland.

The service, which took place at 8 o'clock, was performed by Rev. F. Ramsay, and the wedding marches were played by Mr. Stanley Bulley. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of ivory Chantilly lace and georgette, with long mousquetaire sleeves, the long skirt being edged with a deep hem of fine silk net. With this she wore a veil of net embroidered with three large true lover's knots, which was arranged with a Juliet cap of orange blossoms, and this fell in a short full train, and she held a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, anemones and maidenhair fern tied with white tulle.

THREE ATTENDANTS
There were three charming attendants. The maid of honor was Miss Muriel Richardson, in a pretty, sleeveless frock of orchid crepe-back satin with a tight bodice shirred down the front, and a very full skirt fastened with tiers of tiny ruffles which fell to an uneven hemline. The bridesmaids were Miss Thelma Richardson and Miss Irene McAdams in pale pink and Nile green frocks, respectively. Their frocks were made alike in slim princess lines, with capelet sleeves and long full skirts with a large butterfly of the material worked into the gown at the natural waist line in front.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE RELIEVED

A SIMPLE, SAFE AND RELIABLE WAY THAT CALLS FOR NO POLY TREATMENT, PAINS, PHONES OR OTHER INSTRUMENTS

To have catarrhal deafness is very annoying and embarrassing. People who are deaf in this way are generally entirely unaware of the cause. And yet many catarrhal deaf folks carry around instruments that call attention to their infirmity. Therefore people who are hard of hearing, who suffer from head noises or who are actually deaf from catarrhal trouble, will be glad to know of a simple treatment that can be easily made up at home for a few cents cost that is really quite efficient in relieving the disagreeable deafness and head noises caused by catarrh.

From any druggist get one ounce of Permin (double strength). Take this home and put it into a simple syrup made of 4 pint of hot water and a little ordinary sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times daily.

and finished with diamante buckles. They all wore mohair Rila Rita hats with velvet ribbon streamers to match their frocks, and carried sheaf of pink snapdragons.

The best man was Mr. Llewellyn Sheppard and the ushers were Mr. Ross Hocking and Mr. Owen Fowler (cousins of the bride), and Mr. Harry Peard.

RECEPTION HELD
A largely attended reception followed the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus Hall, which was beautifully decorated with pink and mauve flowers and greenery. The bride and groom stood beneath a floral arch from which was suspended a large white bell covered with pink flowers, to receive the guests, and they were assisted by Mrs. Richardson, in a gown of cyclamen all-over lace trimmed with an old gold rose at the waist, and a small becoming hat of gold lace.

Pink and mauve asters and tall pink tapers ornamented the supper table, on which was placed the three-tier bride cake, and serving the guests were Misses K. Tadmor, E. Jenkins, W. McAdams, E. Florence, M. Topp, E. Warder, M. Fleck, B. Falckney, M. Hocking, E. and L. Robinson.

The numerous and beautiful presents included a handsome silver tea and coffee service from the B.C.E.R. office staff, of which the bride had been a member for the last nine years, and a silver fruit basket from the Robert Burns Memorial Chapter, I.O.D.E., to which she belonged.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. F. Deane-Freeman, Mr. Walter Deane-Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. W. Mainwaring and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Willard, of Vancouver; Mrs. W. H. Morgan, of Calgary, sister of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Hocking, of Seattle.

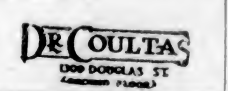

The monthly meeting of the McBride Conservative Club (Incorporated) will be held in the Conservative rooms, Campbell Building, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Captain Hugh Allan, president, in the chair. New members will be initiated and applications for membership received.

Mexico to Take Church Property Of Protestants

Toronto Professor Finds Ancient Manuscripts of Old Testament Books in Abyssinia—This Country Follows Practice and Ritual of Coptic Church

North India Eyes Church Union

THE Mexican Government is about to take over all the church property owned by Protestants. This action is in line with the policy of nationalization of church property which was enforced against the Roman Catholic Church four years ago and which nearly induced international complications. The Protestant-owned churches, missions and schools are said to be valued at $100,000,000; the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States, being the largest owner. Schools are exempt. The Government's decision is an act of hostility to Protestants, to whom, it is stated, it has been rather friendly, but aims to align all church bodies under the one procedure.

POPE VS. PRESIDENT

It was under the constitution of 1857, promulgated under the leadership of Benito Juarez, the great Mexican reformer, the first provision for the nationalization of church property was made. This met with determined opposition and the regulation was not enforced. Nor was that of the new constitution of 1917 until the regime of Calles in 1924. No foreigners were permitted to function as priests or ministers, and religion was banned from primary schools. The Pope declared the regulations wicked and declined to obey. Both sides are standing firm. The exact bearing upon the Protestant work is not yet made clear. The paper just mentioned quotes an unnamed "prominent official" to the effect that it will not seriously affect Protestant operations.

FINDS OLD MANUSCRIPTS

Carrying on his search for old manuscripts in Abyssinia while war was being waged, a Canadian scholar, Rev. S. A. B. Mercer, D.D., Professor of Oriental Languages in Trinity College, Toronto, was successful in finding the oldest known manuscripts of the Book of Ecclesiastes not far from Addis Ababa, the capital of the country. These manuscripts date from the fourteenth and thirteenth centuries and are written in Ethiopic or Ge'ez, an ancient language of the Semitic stock. Professor Mercer spent over two months last winter in his expedition and took photographs of many manuscripts and made a study of the church ritual.

Christianity is said to have been adopted in Abyssinia in the fourth century, where it flourished for three centuries. Hemmed in by the Muslim invasion of Arabia and Egypt, Abyssinia was cut off from almost every means of communication with the civilized world, so that, as Gibbon says, "encompassed by the enemies of their religion, the Ethiopians slept for nearly a thousand years, forgetful of the world by whom they were forgotten." Inquired by the story of Prester John, a great Christian king, the Jesuits entered Abyssinia and carried on a mission for a century and one-half.

PROTESTANTS ARE FEW

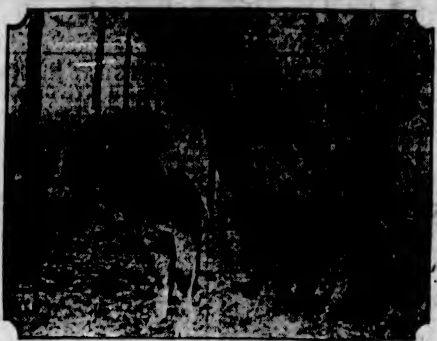

The Abyssinians follow in the main the ritual of the Coptic Church, which is found principally in Egypt. The ceremony of the coronation of Haas Tafari as Emperor of Ethiopia on November 2 will be performed by the Coptic bishop in the modern church of St. George, and will take place before the dawn. This church is in the form of three concentric circles, the inner of which only priests can enter.

CHURCH UNION IN INDIA

The Christians of North India are not prepared to unite on the basis of union-formulated by the South India group which was endorsed at the recent Lambeth Conference. This was the finding of representatives of twenty-nine churches and missions which met last June at London, in the United Provinces. They held it was not advisable to adopt historic episcopacy, as South India had done, as the only basis for securing the widest possible recognition of the ministry. The delegates, however, state that they pledge themselves to keep an open mind on the subject of a wider union that may include the historic episcopacy in a constitutional form. The conference urged inter-communion which, it was stated, already prevailed to a considerable extent. As preliminary to union, joint enterprises in education, theological training and church periodicals was stressed, as well as mutual recognition and use of the ministry and sacraments.

Entirely informal and unofficial as the conference was, and not at all unanimous in its findings, it is held to represent an advanced step in the opinion of Rev. Russell Graham, the chairman, writing in The New Outlook, who also states that Indian Christians generally affirm that if left to themselves they would readily unite. The following churches and missions were represented: The United Church of Northern India, the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Wesleyan Methodist Church, the

SCOTTISH EXHIBITION TO BE HELD IN LONDON

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 11.—An exhibition is being organized which will be representative of the art, history and life of the whole of Scotland and will be held at 27 Grosvenor Square, London. The date has not yet been decided upon. The nucleus of the exhibition is a private loan, and a committee has already received from various sources promises of loans of relics and works of art not hitherto exhibited. Some of the better known exhibits belong to museums. There is every prospect of the exhibition being unique of its kind in London, whereas in the past there have been Stuart exhibitions and Jacobite exhibitions in London, there has been no exhibition within the memory of the present generation which has attempted to be representative of all that is of the greatest merit and interest in the whole of Scotland.

A great international exhibition is to be held in Cork, Ireland, in 1932, when the Eucharistic Congress is to be held in Dublin.

NEW LICENCES 10,800

Passenger and commercial vehicles licensed in the province up to September 30 this year numbered 95,998, a gain from 92,528 vehicles registered at the same time last year, according to figures released by the motor licence branch yesterday. Approximately 9,000 new passenger cars and 1,800 trucks were included in the figures, the details of which were as follows:

Passenger vehicles: New registrations in private ownership and public ownership, 8,998; renewals, 70,583. Total, 79,581 vehicles. Commercial vehicles: New registrations, 1,800; renewals, 14,454. Total, 16,254 vehicles. This gives a gross total of 95,835 vehicles of all types registered, exclusive of 1,218 motorcycles.

The two new Hoovers offer values in electric cleaning efficiency never before equaled.

Model 725 shows an increase in efficiency over its predecessor of 25%!

Model 575, which replaces the popular-priced Hoover, offers a great increase in efficiency, and additional improvements which include a ball-bearing motor. Both Hoovers have refinements never before available in similar Hoover models.

Yet, with all this important increase in dirt-removing ability and with the new conveniences, these two new Hoovers sell for the same prices as previous Hoovers. The terms also are the same—only $4.50 down, the balance monthly, with a liberal allowance for your old cleaner.

You can have an immediate demonstration or home trial of either model, on request, without incurring an obligation to purchase.

ADVERTISED TOOTH PASTES AND POWDERS

That some of the claims put forward by manufacturers of tooth pastes and powders have been somewhat extravagant or far-fetched must be admitted. In criticizing these advertisements, a writer was able to show that there was nothing wonderful about these tooth pastes and powders; that they contained very simple substances that could be purchased very cheaply and made up by the user.

Now the big point to my mind was not that people were paying too much for tooth pastes and powders or that some points about their preparations were overstated, but that by these large advertisements and extravagant claims they made readers think about their teeth and the great need for cleaning and brushing them.

You have heard and seen the paint slogan, "Save the surface and you save all," and there is no question but that in adults if the surface of the teeth is kept clean there would be very much less decay in teeth.

In children who have not taken enough milk, vegetables and fruits, there is not enough lime for strong teeth, and this is the beginning of much of the bad or infected teeth. However, trouble starts from the surface also, and it is the starches and foods that cause most of the trouble. They do not require much chewing and being soft and somewhat sticky, they cling to the teeth and begin to stagnate. This stagnation, with its multitude of little organisms, attacks the enamel of the teeth and actually eats into the tooth proper, causing decay.

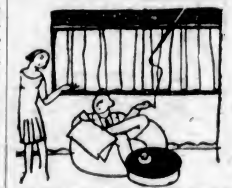

Now if these food particles are removed regularly, and the enamel kept free of organisms that cause decay, the teeth could be saved. And brushing the teeth on all sides and surfaces is the best possible way to remove the food particles. Therefore these striking advertisements, calling attention to the danger of not cleaning the teeth with their particular paste or powder, were really doing a great amount of good in preserving teeth, as it was the means of inducing many individuals to brush their teeth regularly.

However, whether or not you use any special preparation, the main thing is to brush the teeth regularly if you wish to prevent pyorrhea and decay. (Copyright, 1930, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

MINISTER WILL ADDRESS GROUP

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe to Open New Education Fellowship Lectures

AIMS ARE EXPLAINED

The Victoria group of the New Educational Fellowship announces a pre-Christmas schedule that includes three meetings which are open to the public as well as to Fellowship members. These are as follows:

Thursday, October 23, Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, will give an address dealing with the salient features of recent educational investigations in England.

Thursday, November 20, W. G. Black, M.A., Department of Education, University of British Columbia, will lecture on "Some Educational Experiments of the Post-War Period."

Thursday, December 4, C. B. Wood, M.A., Provincial Normal School, Victoria, will give an address on "The New Education in Germany." Mr. Wood has just returned to Victoria after a year of educational research work at Columbia University and an educational tour throughout Germany.

The meetings are held in Victoria College at 8:15 p.m. on above dates. This New Education Fellowship works as far as possible in co-operation with the University Extension Committee of Victoria and care has been taken that the dates of meetings do not conflict.

So many inquiries have been received as to what the New Education Fellowship is, and what it stands for, that the following statement has been prepared by the local group:

The New Education Fellowship, with headquarters in London, England, where it originated, is an international organization which "seeks to form a centre for progressive education throughout the world. Standing outside all educational theories and methods, extracting the significant from each, and giving this out again, it represents a synthesis of progressive education the world over."

The international aspect is indicated in the following paragraph:

"By bringing educators of different countries together for the interchange of ideas, by creating a centre for the correlation and recording of their experiences, by disseminating news of their experimental findings, the Fellowship stimulates international co-operation based on mutual understanding. It has organized sections in nineteen countries, including, besides England, Scotland, India, and others, the countries of France, Germany, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Switzerland. It has also an advisory council in the United States and groups in several additional countries."

NATIONAL ASPECT
Within a country it "promotes closer understanding between educationalists themselves in the different grades of the professional education authorities, universities, training colleges, state and private schools, etc., and between teachers and parents. Its members include psychologists, nurses, doctors, social workers, and besides teachers, an increasing number of parents."

ATTITUDE TOWARDS CHILD
The Fellowship's attitude towards the child may be briefly summed up thus:

It realizes that each individual child is creative as well as receptive and co-operative.

It believes in the self-activity of the child and in direct contact for the child with life situations.

For example, a child will better understand the configuration of a country or his own province by modelling it with his water-sand, or mountain ridges, forest, arable or desert tracts, from such materials as clay, sand, grass, etc., than from merely looking at a map. From a conducted trip to a printing press or a woolen mill, he will form a much clearer idea of the processes of these industries than he could gather from reading about them in a lesson book. Long before he reaches the civic or citizenship class he will have learned the true value of co-operation in life by often being one of a group of classmates at work on a group-subject, where the best work of each is necessary for the success of the whole.

It believes that education should meet at every stage, not only the physical and mental but also the emotional and spiritual needs of the child.

It would substitute for rigid and compulsory discipline, educational training which puts emphasis on initiative and self-responsibility, recognizing these as the essential ingredients of character building which lead to self-discipline.

It believes that, through the co-operation of enlightened parents and teachers, the children can be prepared to take their place in the new age foreshadowed by the foremost thinkers of the day.

Miss Annie T. Riddell, Osborne Court Hotel, is honorary secretary of the Victoria Group of the New Education Fellowship.

Varied Activities of Women

St. Luke's Church Scene Of Wedding

With its beautiful harvest decorations, St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill made an attractive setting for the wedding last night, at 8.30 o'clock of Eileen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stubbs, Ralph Street, Saanich, and Mr. John William Cox, only son of the late Mr. Joseph Cox, of Brunley, England, and of Mrs. E. V. Landrey, of Victoria. For the occasion tall silver baskets filled with Michaelmas daisies and pink dahlias had been placed at each side of the altar in addition to the other decorations. Rev. S. Ryall performed the ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Balantyne. During the signing of the register, Mrs. H. G. Rough sang a solo.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely frock of white georgette over silk pink, which was made with a long-sleeved bolero bodice and a flared skirt which reached to her ankles all round. Her veil of embroidered silk net was attached to a cap of exquisite Brussels lace and was caught at the back of the neck with a strand of orange blossom, and fell in folds to the hem of her skirt. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and white carnations.

The bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Marie Stubbs, who wore a frock of peach silk lace made with short puff sleeves, a bolero bodice and an ankle-length flared skirt and a hat of eggshell stitched tulle. She held a bouquet of blue delphiniums and pink snapdragons. Little Beverly Rough, a niece of the bride, was a dainty flower girl in a frock of pink and mauve tulle, which nearly touched the ground and a pink bonnet tied with mauve ribbon and trimmed with tiny knots of French flowers. She held a colonial posy.

Mr. Leslie Willoughby supported the groom and the usher was Mr. W. Stubbs, brother of the bride. A reception was held later in St. Luke's Hall, where the bride and groom received the guests standing beneath a floral arch. They were assisted by Mrs. Stubbs in a gown of pale grey georgette and hat of Parma violet and mauve felt, and by Mrs. Landrey in a dress of bottle green georgette and lace, and a felt hat trimmed with a stiff bow of green felt and net. They both wore coronas of violets and roses.

A buffet supper was served. Gay streamers of pink and mauve were suspended from the ceiling of the hall, and the small table, on which was placed the three-tier wedding cake, was arranged with vases of pink and mauve asters.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox will leave for California this morning on the S.S. Emma Alexander and will spend their honeymoon at Los Angeles, the bride traveling in a charming creation of rose beige chiffon and silk lace and a fawn camel's hair coat with a lynx collar, and a polka bonnet hat of beige felt trimmed with a feather mount.

Weddings

ARMSTRONG-BENNETT

The marriage took place yesterday afternoon at the home of Rev. J. S. Paterson, Esquimalt Road, when Rev. Charles Thompson united Queenie Freda, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bennett, Manchester Road, to Mr. Arthur Armstrong, son of Mr. and the late Mrs. Armstrong, of Victoria. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a gown of white georgette and a hand-embroidered wedding veil, caught with sprays of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. Her only attendant was Miss Florence McKinnon, in a pretty frock of pink georgette; and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Harry Armstrong. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Bennett, mother of the bride, and Mrs. H. Crowe, sister of the groom. For traveling, the bride chose a dress of fawn flat crepe with coat and hat to match.

Among the numerous presents received was a tray of community silver and a carving set from the employees of Ormond's Limited, where the bride and groom have been employed for the past few years.

Premier's Daughter to Wed

Alberta Visitors at Empress

Baroness Casavova, accompanied by Major and Mrs. B. F. Rhodes, of Cochrane, Alta., arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon on a holiday tour. Baroness Casavova, owner of the Bow River Farm, near Cochrane, and about twenty-six miles from Calgary, is one of the two airplane ranchers in Western Canada. Possessing a Moth plane, the baroness makes his tour of his extensive farm holdings by the air route. He also is a breeder of Shorthorn cattle, the foundation stock having been obtained from the Prince of Wales "E.P." Ranch. The baroness and Major Rhodes are polo adepts and are both interested in the raising and training of polo ponies.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

The monthly meeting of the Royal Oak Women's Institute was held in the Royal Oak Hall on October 9. A gift of fancywork was presented to Mrs. De Roustie, who is leaving the district. In token of appreciation for her help in the institute, Mrs. Mead-Robins, who was responsible for the concert, was thanked. Mrs. Grieve's artistic baskets of flowers added much to the general effect. Rev. F. Conley took the chair in the evening, when 140 sat down to supper. A silver tea will be held on October 30, from 3 to 5 o'clock, when it is hoped Mrs. Schofield will be the speaker; this will be followed by cards and dancing in the evening. On November 7 a thanksgiving fair will be held with dancing; many good prizes will be given away. At the November meeting of the institute a jam shower will be held for the Solarium. Mrs. Reer and Mrs. MacQueen were appointed delegates to the Island conference. Layettes had been presented to the Health Centre as a gift from the institute.

The first series of card parties to be given throughout the winter under the auspices of the Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institutes was held in the Sooke Hall Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served by members of the institute.

Grandson of King of Belgians Baptized

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Oct. 11. — Wrapped in a shawl of rare lace, the infant Prince Leopold, second child of Crown Prince Leopold and Princess Astrid, was baptized today at the Church of St. Jacques of Condrenburg. Hundreds of school children were among the crowd that lined the streets and watched the procession of royal carriages to and from the church.

The King and Queen of the Belgians, Prince Leopold and the Princess Astrid, were in the procession. King Albert is the infant Prince's godfather. Princess Rene de Bourbon is the godmother. As the carriages, each drawn by six horses, circled the square before the church, the throng, unimpaired by a heavy rain, cheered enthusiastically.

The procession was met at the church by the clergy, headed by Cardinal Van Roy, who performed the baptismal rites.

WHERE does the economy of Newcastle Coal come in? The actual cost per ton is the same in terms of dollars and cents. But . . . and the word spells the difference . . . every shovelful holds more heat, lasts longer and burns cleaner than any other coal. You order coal at longer intervals, refuel your furnace less often, enjoy steady, reliable heat.

Here is a secret in the success of Newcastle Coal . . . more units of heat per shovelful . . . greater economy through less waste . . . these are factors that have brought popularity to Newcastle Coal.

Chevrolet "Six" Economy Test Won at 60 Miles Per Gallon!

185 Victoria Drivers Compete and Average 37.9 Miles Per Gallon for

Total Mileage Driven

HERE is indisputable proof of Chevrolet "Six" fuel economy. A stock model new Chevrolet "Six" was taken from our showroom floor and driven by 185 Victoria drivers. A pint of gasoline only was used, and Mr. A. Baker—the winner—drove 7.5 miles, or equal to 60 miles per gallon! A record that should make every prospective car purchaser seriously consider the Chevrolet "Six."

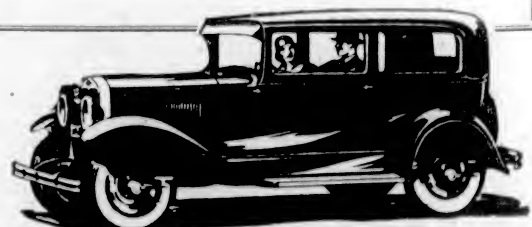

Combined with six-cylinder power, flexibility and sensational economy, the new Chevrolet "Six" offers a degree of riding comfort and handling ease which has hitherto been obtainable only in larger and more expensive cars.

Mileage Winners

The three leading drivers who drove the farthest on a carefully measured pint of gasoline were awarded prizes as follows:

FIRST PRIZE—Mr. A. Baker, 230 Belmont Avenue $20.00 Per pint . . . 7.5 miles. Average per gallon . . . 60 miles. SECOND PRIZE—Miss W. Wilcox, 1350 Pembroke Street $10.00 Per pint . . . 7.2 miles. Average per gallon . . . 57.6 miles. THIRD PRIZE—Mr. P. Campbell, 1716 Fort Street $5.00 Per pint . . . 7.2 miles. Average per gallon . . . 57.6 miles.

Three competitors actually tied for second and third places. The subsequent test resulted in Miss Wilcox and Mr. Campbell winning, but with lower mileage than in first run.

Investigation by Provincial Police Narrows Trail in Babchuck Mystery

POLISH COUPLE TRACED

From a lonely settlement on the fringe of civilization in Northeastern British Columbia to the foreign quarter of Winnipeg, central Canada's metropolis, search for the murderer of Joe Babchuck and his companion, Polish settlers done to death in the cabin on North Pine River last month, is proceeding by the Provincial Police. Sergeant MacBrayne, of the C.I.D. staff, returned to the city yesterday, after a hurried trip through Manitoba and Saskatchewan, trailing certain leads in the mystery. The movements of the Babchucks for several years back have been traced, with the result that earlier theories of jealousy as the prime cause of the gruesome double murder have been abandoned, and a Polish resident of The Pass, once under suspicion, eliminated from the case. At Winnipeg Babchuck's former wife, from whom he was separated, was found, and helped the authorities to eliminate other factors in the case which had been previously unexplained. Investigation is proceeding, and is believed to be now based on the theory that the Babchucks were not followed from their former place of residence in Manitoba, but killed as a result of some circumstance originating in the Northern British Columbia settlement.

Letters to Editor

No letter to the Editor will be inserted unless it is signed by the writer, and unless it is of a nature to be of interest to the public.

INDEED IT WOULD

Sir,—It would be interesting to know from an unbiased point of view whether some of the editorials one reads in your contemporary are written in a jocular state of mind. Its readers are told Premier R. B. Bennett is responsible for the increase in price of butter, in spite of the fact the tariff, with reference to same at the time of writing, the date set had not arrived. The question that confronts the consumer is, who is getting the benefit of the spread of profit, namely, the producer, commission merchant, or the consumers of butter?

Will Travel on Orient Vessels of C.P.R.

HARRY W. SPEDDING

Formerly of the staff of the general agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, at Portland, Ore. He has been appointed steamship ticket agent travelling on the company's Empress Lines between the Orient and Victoria and Vancouver.

Again, the said readers are informed, since the tariff on glass went into force, the price of glass doubled in price, which is correct, with what results?

As soon as Premier R. B. Bennett was made aware of the enormous increase of the price of glass to the consumer, he immediately cables from London to revoke the tariff on said commodity. All fair-minded citizens of Canada will not put the onus of the increased cost of glass on Premier Bennett.

Premier Bennett is held up to ridicule by your contemporary to its readers because he made it clear to the Imperial Conference that the primary concern of Canada was to sell wheat profitably, that she wanted the British market in which to make the sale, and for it we are willing to pay by giving in the Canadian market preference for British goods. Because the Premier had the audacity to make such a statement, the charge is made that he demands a bargain to be put into being, because of the fact, Joseph Chamberlain launched his tariff reform crusade at the beginning of the century.

Therein the readers of your contemporary have the essence of the whole argument. As the majority of your readers are aware, Premier Bennett is putting up a business proposition to the Imperial Government in the interest of the citizens of the whole Dominion of Canada.

One can see at a glance the trouble with the mind of your contemporary. It is still dwelling in the prehistoric age as the period when Great Britain was the workshop of the world. It has not yet awakened to the fact that this is the year of our Lord 1930, and that industry has been revolutionizing the world.

When I read in the press that Premier Scullen, Labor leader of our sister colony, Australia, also New Zealand, have endorsed Premier Bennett's policy that he has briefly outlined before the Imperial Conference, it assuredly denotes same has made a good impression at the Conference.

May I suggest to your contemporary that it give the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King a rest? It would be in the best interests of the citizens of the Dominion as a whole, and one source of gratification to know there are a few of the of the Liberal organs throughout the Dominion giving credit to Premier Bennett where credit is due. After all is said and done, all fair-minded citizens, although they be of the Liberal faith, will admit that in the short space of time Premier Bennett has held the reins of Government he has carried out his pre-election pledges so far to the letter.

With reference to the unemployed, his Government has made provision for same. There is no obstacle in the way of every man and woman in dire need of employment for the purpose of getting access to some of the good things in life being denied access to same.

It would be in the interest of the community as a whole if your contemporary would play the game of cricket. Instead of wasting "good printers' ink, writing up claptrap and piffle, to turn its artillery and guns on the city fathers and the reeves and councilmen of the surrounding district for the purpose of getting action on the chronic economic condition of unemployment in our midst. By so doing it would earn the everlasting gratitude of the citizens of same as a whole.

necessary to raise a sum of $700 by the 20th of this month in order to secure the lowest minimum of guarantee that the company can risk starting their season upon. I feel sure that there are many citizens of Victoria who, when they realize that unless this sum can be raised by this date that this great asset to the amusement world of the city will be lost, will be glad to give. And not only is it on account of the loss as a healthful recreation, but it means that thirty or forty people of Victoria who would be employed in various departments of the theatre if the company is there, would in all probability be unemployed if the theatre is closed. So may I ask all those who have not yet given to do so now before it is too late, and to pay in their contributions, however small, as soon as possible to the Bank of Montreal in trust for the Players' fund. And will all those who have already promised their contributions pay them in as soon as possible to the bank if they have not already done so. Time is very short, and I am sure that the citizens of Victoria would be very sorry if at the eleventh hour, through lack of a little effort, this great asset to the city were lost.

THE HEART OF A CHILD
The heart of a child is a garden,
With sunlight and sweet with flowers,
A place for the weaving of all de-

Through golden Summer hours.

Nothing but blossoms and beauty
there,
Where faith like the sunlight falls
And joy adrift on the perfumed air
Within the garden's walls.

The heart of a child is a realm
apart
From the dull domains of earth;
No guile goes there, no craft or art,
But trust and love and mirth.

Ah, what would you give for the

For well of being undisturbed,
And with never a doubt or care?

PLAN TO BUILD NEW COLLEGE GIVEN SUPPORT

Catholic School for Boys
Has Remarkable Tradition of Achievement

ASSOCIATION PLEDGES SUPPORT TO PRELATE

It was in that memorable year in the history of Victoria in which an army of gold-seekers poured into Victoria and Esquimalt harbors and expanded overnight the settlement of a few hundred souls into a town of ten thousand, that saw the beginning of St. Louis College, which, it is expected, will enter into new quarters about this time next year. This Catholic school for boys was a "fifty-eight."

It was a day of many beginnings for Vancouver Island. In that year the first brick building in Victoria was built and a fire brigade was formed. St. Anne's Academy opened for its first pupils. Two years before, the first House of Assembly met with its seven members, and in the same year the village of Victoria was formed. The gold-mining fever raged. Three thousand five hundred mining licences were granted in a little more than six months. The steamer Oregon brought 1200 passengers in one trip from San Francisco, and not long after the Orizaba and Cortez, 2,200 more.

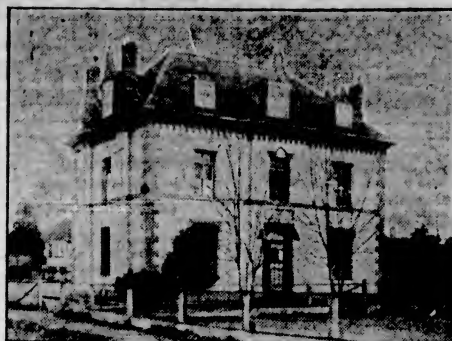

BISHOP DEMERS ARRIVES
In this swirl of commercial excitement the churches were busy in promoting religious and educational interests. Christ Church was built for Anglican worship in 1856, and the first Bishop, Bishop Hills, arrived in 1859. The Roman Catholics were correspondingly active. Father Demers travelled across the continent in a journey of 193 days to be greeted by the Hudson's Bay chief factor, James Douglas, on his arrival, November 24, 1858. The pioneer priest was consecrated first bishop of Vancouver Island and New Caledonia in 1867. A man of action and of progressive ideas, Bishop Demers met the new situation created by the influx of settlers by starting schools for boys and girls. The boys at first gathered in his own palace, a humble residence, but soon after built a schoolroom.

School for Sixty-Six Years

St. Louis College

ON SITE OF HOSPITAL

Let us imagine ourselves one day in the late 'sixties following with one of the schoolboys a trail from lower Yates Street across lots towards the site of the old Christ Church Cathedral and dropping down over the rocks to the square where St. Joseph's Hospital now stands. In this enclosure were a church, which later became the chapel of St. Anne's Academy, a residence where housed the bishop, parish priests and teachers, and at the northeast corner a school of one room about thirty by forty feet in size.

Some twenty-five or thirty boys of ages from six to fifteen are playing in the spacious grounds at rounders, cricket, marbles or what not, or disporting themselves on swings or parallel bars. Most of these are town lads, but some come from New Westminster and Kamloops, and these board in the bishop's palace. Some of them are newcomers from California, whose parents were drawn thither in the gold rush of 'forty-nine, and ten years later had been lured northward by the same story.

HIGH-GRADE TEACHERS

A large hand bell called the youngsters from the playground into a commodious room where two classes were frequently carried on at once. The physical equipment of the pioneer schools was ordinary, but the intellectual was not ordinary. The teachers were of the very best. They were university graduates and cultured gentlemen. Rev. Father Beaudre, of the order of the Oblates of Mary the Immaculate, was a scholarly French Canadian; the other teachers were Irish, trained in Dublin and American universities. There was Brother McStay and Brother Allen, who wore glasses, both of them good pals who played with the boys outside the school and disciplined them on occasion. Whether under discipline or frolicking, the boys loved them, and a fine school spirit was developed along with a high moral atmosphere.

WERE LIVELY DAYS

The out-of-school life must have been interesting for the boys of that period. The gold excitement was in the air; a vessel arrived one day with $100,000 worth of the precious metal. Vessels were coming and going from far-off ports—from around the Horn, from San Francisco, from Honolulu and Britain. Always there were Indians about, and often crazy with firewater. Besides the Songhees near the town, canoes paddled to near the fort gate from far up the coast, loaded to the gunwale with furs.

The volunteer fire brigade had practices and parades and always there were the woods and miles of sea shore. The college teachers went swimming with their boys to Poul Bay. Other bathing places were up the Gorge, or where now is the Marine and Fisheries building, or at Rose Point. A reminiscence of one old boy is of an Irish citizen near Rose Point spreading tar upon the rocks to keep off the youngsters because their bathing suit was Mother Nature's only.

COLLEGE IS BUILT

After six years in the one room on Collinson Street, the school blossomed out into what then were commodious quarters of the present St. Louis College on Pandora Avenue, the cornerstone of which was blessed August 25, 1863, and the doors opened January 17, 1864. The principal was Father Beaudre, who was succeeded by Rev. Father McQuirk, O.M.I., who won considerable distinction as an educator. Under him and Brother Allen, also an able teacher and disciplinarian, the school was well patronized, and many of Victoria's business men of later years got their three R's and more within its walls. David Belasco, famous in the theatrical world, was educated here. Of the pupils who attended the one-room school at Collinson Street, two remain in the city—R. T. Williams and Hippolyte Borde.

The story of St. Louis College can not be told without mention of Bishop Demers. Keen for the best possible education, which included religion, he put his strength into providing for it for his flock. St. Anne's Academy was early established for girls, as we have seen. When the Oblate Fathers were withdrawn to the Mainland, Bishop Demers purchased the St. Louis school and grounds for $10,000, to provide which he sold the diocesan farm, thereby, according to the B.C. Orphan's Friend, handicapping the work of the diocese for many years. Since that time the property has been owned by St. Andrew's Cathedral.

WORK OF FORTY YEARS
With varying fortune and considerable changing of staff, the Catholic school for boys was carried on during the next forty years. The work fell upon the local clergy, one of whom, St. Rev. Monsignor Laferriere, who is editor of The B.C. Orphan's Friend, was principal for sixteen years. Lay teachers from Eastern Canada were drafted in, and for some time the Sisters of St. Anne took the junior classes. Under Archbishop Orth, the Marist Fathers were in charge. With the arrival of Bishop Macdonald, J. L. Shanahan became principal, with Miss Edna McHugh and Mrs. Barbara Sullivan as assistants.

Permanence came with the advent of the Christian Brothers in 1915. The members of this congregation, which was organized in Ireland in 1802, devote themselves to teaching, and the order has done for Ireland what its senior, the La Salle Congregation, has done for France. The superiors here have been Rev. Bros. Ryan, Curtis, the late T. G. Orangel, and O. P. Lawless, the present head, who came here in September, 1926. The other members of the staff are Rev. Bros. M. G. Burke, J. G. Keogh, E. G. Russell, A. E. English and M. S. Dwyer.

WON MUSIC SHIELD TWICE

The love of music is one of the college traditions. The past two years its boys' choir, trained under Brother J. G. Keogh, won the Wilkerson Shield at the Victoria Musical Festival. The late Bro. Grengel was an enthusiastic musician. Indeed music is in the diocesan spirit as might be expected from the two streams of French and Irish that have blended in its history. Bishop Demers was a fine singer, and, "You should hear our bishops sing," was an appreciation reported to have been given at one time by one of the faithful. The tradition is maintained in the high quality of the music at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

With the more comfortable quarters and additional facilities of the proposed new building, St. Louis College may be expected to enter upon a new lease of life. Its course of studies comprises the ordinary school grades and the high school course leading up to matriculation. At its recent annual meeting, the College Welfare Association, of which Rev. C. E. Evans, rector of St. Andrew's Cathedral, is president, pledged its support to Bishop Murray in his efforts to complete the $50,000 required for the new building.

BOY SOPRANO BACK FROM WORLD TOUR GLAD TO BE HOME

Master Norman Clarke, pupil of Mrs. Wilfrid Ord, who was selected to go on tour with the Westminster Glee Singers, and who left last July on a round-the-world trip, arrived in Victoria by Ss. Niagara on Thursday, and is now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clarke, 3145 Avenue, Parkdale. Every city visited the Glee Singers were received with great enthusiasm. At Suva, Fiji Islands, Honolulu, Tasmania, Brisbane, Sydney, and at Melbourne, where the city hall holds over 3,000 people, many were turned away. Their programme included a wide variety of selections of traditional classics of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, and the unaccompanied part-song singing of the full choir in support of solo numbers was greatly appreciated. An additional part rendered was several sea shanties as a specialty for those who felt the pull of the sea.

Master Norman greatly enjoyed his tour with the Glee Singers, and while bidding him adieu at Brisbane was presented with two or three gifts as an expression of regret at his leaving. After visiting so many places in different parts of the world, Norman said on arriving home, "To me there is no country like Canada, and no city like Victoria."

HAY SITUATION IN PROVINCE REVIEWED

Grain Supplies Should Not Be Held for Higher Prices, It is Advised

In a market report issued by the Department of Agriculture yesterday, farmers in the province are advised not to hold hay and grain supplies too long in anticipation of better prices. Such a course, it is pointed out, would encourage influx of Alberta grains.

If the weather continues mild throughout the Winter a surplus of hay may develop next Spring, while the reverse would be true if prolonged cold weather sets in.

A general summary of the hay situation in the province is given as follows: "British Columbia has a less crop of hay than was produced last year. The Prairie crop is much greater. The Interior of the province will have a small saleable surplus. The lower Mainland crop is less than last year, but sufficient for local needs, and may leave a small surplus on hand. On Vancouver Island the crop is short and will, it is likely, have to be augmented from other parts in the province."

THE WINTER GARDEN Should Be Bright With Color

In this climate the Winter should not rob your garden of interest and brightness. By planting such splendid shrubs as Cotoneasters, Berberis, Pyracantha, and others of similar habit, you may have masses of bright berries the Winter through. And what is more charming than evergreen trees, blue spruces, cedars with variegated foliage, cypresses, junipers and similar subjects? We have a huge variety for immediate planting, at reasonable prices.

Sales Volume Proves GRAHAM-PAIGE Supremacy

Better Now Than Ever Before in Our
8 Years of Successful
Representation

Steadily-increasing popularity of GRAHAM-PAIGE has brought to us, as dealers, a new high record in 1930, establishing our leadership in Victoria. Only low-priced light cars have topped our total of sales, June figures showing us second from the top of the list, irrespective of class.

SERVICE has always been maintained in the highest degree of efficiency. Expert work by trained mechanics has distinguished this department both for new and used cars. Now we announce the opening of our Wheel Alignment Department, for which the most modern machinery is now on the way.

USED CARS offer the highest value, our policy being one of thorough reconditioning every model before it is offered for sale. No model is allowed out of our shop before it is ready for the road. Thus protection of our customers is assured.

AVIATION is a department recently opened. Sale and service for the new Low-Winged Monoplane, for which we hold the B.C. franchise, is added to the advice and information which, as qualified pilots, we are able to give. Our knowledge of local conditions is based on experience.

Our growing reputation during the years we have been in business has been built on the foundation of honest value, reliable service and true representation. Every year has found us better equipped to meet the public demands, with a firmer footing through the confidence of our patrons.

Premier Bennett Has Strong Argument for Trade—German Youth Is Astonishing Land—Hitler Shows Anti-Semitic Tendencies—New Headmaster Sails for Canada—London Stage Reviewed

By ELIZABETH MONTIZAMBERT

LONDON, Sept. 18 (By Mail).—Coming back to London, I find the Canadian tariff changes a great topic of conversation. The officials of the Empire Marketing Board were as shy about expressing an opinion as their chairman, J. H. Thomas, who, I see, is reported to be following Pitt's example and taking a holiday at Brighton. Sir William Clark, the British Commissioner to Canada, so nearly missed the Duchess of Bedford boat train this morning that I had no time to ask him the question he would certainly not have answered, but he and Lady Clark, who carried a lovely bunch of pink carnations, looked very cheerful at the prospect of returning to the country where they have made so many friends.

STRONG POSITION

Sir Benjamin Morgan, vice-chairman of the Economic Union and late chairman of the British Empire Producers' Association, tells me that he thinks that our Prime Minister, with the new Canadian tariff in his hand at the coming Empire Conference, will have a mighty instrument for bringing about closer trade relations with Great Britain. The tariff provides opportunities for such concessions to British trade by Canada that must surely induce the British Government to give preference to Canadian products in this market in return.

"I," said Sir Benjamin, "Mr. Bennett put the case bluntly to the British Government, saying, 'Do you want increased preferences in Canada, in return for preferences that you can give us in the British market for our wheat, fruit and dairy produce,' a wonderful opportunity presents itself for Mr. Bennett to negotiate with the Mother Country a reciprocal commercial agreement, in place of the haphazard preference that will bring prosperity to all the people concerned. 'The Empire,' said Sir Benjamin, 'is at the crossroads. Mr. Bennett can point the way, if he chooses, to a new era of development.'"

TRAVELER'S TALES

Now that travelers are returning to London one hears many interesting details about what is happening in other countries.

In view of the recent political happenings in Germany it was specially relevant to hear first-hand news from Miss Cleve Hamilton, the well-known playwright and author, who has spent some months in that country and has just returned to London to complete a book on Modern Germany which J. M. Dent & Sons are to publish in the near future. One of the things that most impressed Miss Hamilton was the extent of the physical training now organized in every town, where all the book shops are laden with books and pamphlets on every conceivable phase of physical development, in addition to the state of books on the occupation and what they had endured which burst out as soon as the last French soldier had left German territory. That the German press offers no guide to the state of po-

The County of London branch of the British Red Cross provided five camps and eight dispensaries this year and about thirty V.A.D.s worked under their supervision during the three weeks' hopping season. As many of the hoppers come from some of the worst London slums, it is not surprising that they frequently need medical attention.

SAILED FOR CANADA

W. Hamilton Pye, late headmaster of Christ's Hospital, Hoveham, who sailed for Canada today to take up his new post as president of Queen's University, Kingston, will just miss the quaint annual ceremony that takes place on St. Matthew's Day next week, when the Bluecoat boys from Hoveham and the girls from Hertford come up to London for the service in the old church in Newgate Street, which is attended by the Lord Mayor in state with his aldermen and the governors of Christ's Hospital. The old school where dear Charles Lamb, "of tender years, barely turned of seven," felt himself alone among 600 playmates, was torn down after the boys were moved to Hoveham twenty-eight years ago, but the church that was built after the Great Fire on the foundation of the choir of the great church of the Grey Friars Monastery that dated from the fourteenth century is still one of the ornaments of the city.

SUCCESSFUL PARTY

The Countess of Minto, whose popularity among her Scottish neighbors is gained by her charm of manner as well as kindness of heart, has added to her laurels as a hostess this summer by her very successful house party, when she entertained Prince George on the occasion of the border pageant held in the grounds of Minto House. Among the 700 performers taking part was Miss Celia Cantlie, who was staying in the neighborhood. Another pageant is being arranged by Mrs. Holden, lady-in-waiting to Her Royal Highness Prince Louise, Duchess of Argyll, in aid of the Sussex Eye Hospital.

One item will be a series of tableaux of famous French people when the Empress Eugenie will be impersonated by the Hon. Mrs. Freeman Thomas, daughter-in-law of His Excellency the Governor-General and Lady Willingdon.

THE LONDON THEATRE

The first play I saw when I returned to town was "Street Scene" at the Globe Theatre. Many people must have warned Maurice Browne against producing so depressing a play, but he was justified in his conviction that the public would appreciate an admirable, if photographic, piece of work produced with a cast whose teamwork and sustained pace set another example to the English stage, in spite of the handicap of being half-American and half-British. Elmer Rice contrives to make the audience feel as if they were sitting on the opposite pavement watching all that goes on in his sordid tenement, and long after the last curtain has fallen the characters in his play haunt one with a curious intensity. "Street Scene" is not so shattering as "The Adding Machine," yet it has a magnificence of its own, and depressing or not, no one should lose the opportunity to see this work of genius.

INDIFFERENT ACTING

The next night I went to a vastly different entertainment at the Kingsway Theatre, where Joseph Cunningham is presenting "Her First Affair," by Merrill Rogers and Frederick Jackson. There is nothing very original in the tale of a vain, rather anaemic, novelist writing of the amorous episodes in which he has not the temperament to indulge, while his pretty understanding wife is merely amused by the adoration he receives from flapper admirers, who take his exhortation to "live one's life" quite solemnly. But Margot knows her Cary, and when pretty Ann throws over an attractive but conventional fiancé to try and have her first affair with Cary on the lines of the plot of his latest novel, Margot brings Cary to his senses by the well-worn expedient of a mild flirtation with the fiancée. The setting and the costumes are charming and the play would be diverting if better acted, but Jack Hobbs' twenty-three years' stage experience gives him an advantage over the rest of the cast that make comparisons unfair.

Margery Binner, as his pretty if blithering fiancée, was charming enough to make the recalcitrant novelist's conduct seem almost immoral. It was decidedly a tired business man's play and may please many.

"Sexton Blake," produced by the author, Donald Stuart, at the new Prince Edward Theatre, is a vastly different play—a la Sherlock Holmes, and so packed with explosions, dangers, murders, poisons and such-like inventions that one is swept breathlessly through the four acts and thirteen scenes. Arthur Wontner as Blake the detective, and Dora Gregory as his housekeeper, were noticeably good in an excellent cast that never let the pace drag. My only disappointment was that Pedro the Bloodhound didn't appear. The theatre, which was opened last April, is delightfully comfortable, and Sexton Blake will probably occupy it for some time to come.

The figures here quoted may serve to arouse the public to a still clearer realization of the necessity for such a movement as Prosperity Week. The old slogan: "Keep your money at home and get another chance at it" was never more applicable than at the present time. Although Canada is reported to be one of the largest producers of earned salmon in the world, yet in the last twelve months $304,725 went to the United States of America for the purpose of bringing 1,908,217 pounds of salmon into this country; 8,817,228 pounds of ham imported, accounted for $1,436,026 paid out of the country, and the sum of $803,890 was sent out to purchase 5,455,869 pounds of bacon.

More than 11,000,000 pounds of pickled pork was imported at a cost of $1,334,563; 12,193,178 pounds of bookpaper pulp was imported at a cost of $725,272, and fresh eggs were imported at a cost of $276,898. Small wonder that the burden of Prosperity Week is one of "Buy Home Goods" and keep the trade within the Dominion.

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If October 12 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 to 11:45 a.m., from 4 to 5 p.m., and from 9 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 to 8 a.m. and from 2 to 3 p.m.

The stars will cast propitious rays in your direction on this date. You will feel alert, alive and happy. Benefit through social intercourse. Slight shocks and surprises indicated for the evening hours.

Children born on this October 12 will be given good dispositions and will be truthful and trustworthy. They will be fond of power, pomp and display and will be born leaders. There is much ardour and enthusiasm shown. They will have original and independent views, which may go against family traditions.

You have a very sensitive nature and a quick mind, but you allow resentment and the revengeful part of your being to too often tighten your lips, sour your heart and to cloud the sunshine of your days. You keep wretched quarrels alive because you cannot make up your mind to sacrifice your pride and kill them. There are too many strings of jealousy attached to your loves to bring you contentment and peace of mind and soul. You endure your crosses very poorly—your thoughts are inward, not outward, or upward.

As a woman, you love pretty and dainty things, and you take considerable pride in your own personal appearance and surroundings. You have domestic tastes, an artistic touch and very normal maternal instincts. You would make a devoted mother and a very protective and possessive one. When in the mood, you are a whirlwind for work, and you have the reputation for hustling things out of the way. If you have anything disagreeable to do, whether it be to "call" some one down or some income tax, you are anxious to get it over with and off your mind. You are a most generous friend and neighbor and a hospitable one. You are very good at planning social events and are a typical club woman. You are not always easy to work with, because you want your own way and you imagine slight. For those things you desire, you never "chuck up the sponge" until you have made the fight of your life.

OCTOBER 13

If October 13 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., and from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to noon, and from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Fate is not your friend on this date and she must be grappled with and not leaned against. There will be a tendency to sidetrack the real issues, and to chase the shadow of the substance. Resist temptations to make changes, as your present lot spells more comfort than a new bed at this time.

The child born on this October 13 will have a bold warlike nature, and will be inclined to rush into quarrels. It will go to extremes in both work and pleasures. It will have a strong tendency to play the critic, so that it will be apt to be sarcastic and severe to its opponents.

You have a good mind, but one which is only fitted for detail work. You become confused and completely out of your ken when you try to handle big things in their entirety. You would be unable to deal with a molecule until you had mastered the profundities of its various atoms. Your fussy precision is often carried too far, however, and you waste precious time, energy and nerve over trifling unimportant matters. It would be a blessing for you if you could reserve your best patience and forces for those things which really do count.

Your convictions are not faint and waxy, and although your ideas may be mistaken ones, they are at least energetic and sincere. You do not jump to conclusions, but you are formed neither heaven nor man can change them. You do not have a nomadic nature, and you will probably make very few radical changes during your life. You love your rats and grooves, and they completely satisfy your longings. You keep very close to the beaten tracks and are willing to follow your leader. You have very conventional and conservative ideas, and are a slave to tradition and custom. You are a little inclined to nag, and particularly so, if you be a woman. You like to possess and control those whom you love, and you are a jealous friend. Your thrift almost amounts to parsimoniousness, and you often go without luxuries and comforts which you could well and wisely afford.
